KIWANIS CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held on Tuesday at the Old Venice Restaurant at Norumbega Park. President Walter A. Whallin resumed the duties of president of the club after an absence of one month spent in touring Northern New England. This being the monthly business meeting there was no speaker, the time of the club being taken up with the transaction of various items of business and passing on reports of committees who are working to make the Kiwanis Benefit Show on Tuesday, September 10th, a financial success.

Vice President Will White the general chairman of the committee on annual benefit reported that 10 high grade vaudeville acts had been booked and one or two additional acts were in prospect. The Kiwanis benefit show is an annual feature and is the source from which most of the substantial revenue for financing the underprivileged child work of the club is derived.

Reports indicated a large number of reserve seat tickets already sold and a healthy demand for the tickets for unreserved seats. The entertainment will start at 8 p. m. and will be preceded by the weekly club meeting which will be held at 6 o'clock on the day of the benefit instead of at the usual hour at 12:15. The meeting will be featured by an original and unique entertainment program. The attendance committee is working hard to secure a 100% attendance of members at both the dinner and the benefit entertainment to follow.

SIDEWALK IMPROVEMENTS AT NONANTUM

The long needed improvements on sidewalks at Watertown street, Nonantum are being made. Granite curbs are being placed on the south side of Watertown street from Pearl street westerly towards Cook street and the work will be continued on the north side of the street from opposite Pearl street towards Bridge street. Curbs will also be placed on the south-east side of Pearl street between Watertown and Thompson streets, where the sidewalk is of gravel.

In September, 1895 the then Board of Aldermen voted to widen Watertown street at Nonantum to a width of 60 feet and to improve the street. Some takings of land were made at that time but other parcels which were to have been taken were not seized by the city with the result that the street line was left irregular and the contemplated improvement not made. As a result, the sidewalk inside the curbing on the south side of Watertown street opposite the Donahue property at 272-278 is but a couple of feet in width. Land will have to be taken by the city at this place and two small houses moved back. The city recently made a taking of land on the adjoining property, the Nugent estate at the corner of Watertown and Pearl streets.

Other changes which will have to be made along Watertown street in connection with this improvement work will be the removal of a stone wall on city land at 328 Watertown street and the removal of part of a small frame building adjoining Hose 8 house. The front of this building is on city owned land.

GIRL WAYLAIN AT THOMPSONVILLE

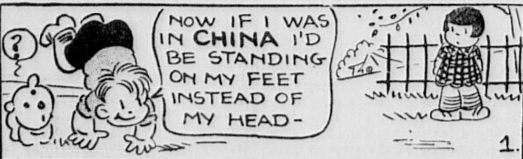

Mary Fahey, 22, a maid employed by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bliscoe of 595 Boylston street, Newton Centre, was assaulted and robbed yesterday afternoon as she was walking on Boylston street east of Thompsonville. The girl had ridden from Boston to Chestnut Hill on the electric cars and was walking home when a young man, about 21 years old and wearing khaki trousers, a blue shirt and a gray cap walked up to the girl from behind, hurled her to the ground, grabbed her handbag and fled into the adjoining woods. The handbag contained $62 in cash and a check for $65. A passing autoist saw Miss Fahey lying on the sidewalk after the thief had made his escape and took the girl to Newton Centre where Patrolman Cummings was told of the robbery.

WHITING-LOVELAND

A very pretty late summer wedding took place on Monday afternoon, Sept. 2nd, at three thirty o'clock in the Congregational Church at Chatham, Mass., when Miss Alice Durrell Loveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland of Newton and Chatham became the bride of Mr. David Whiting, Jr., of Wilton, New Hampshire. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Edward T. Sullivan of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Newton Centre.

Miss Loveland was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Loveland, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte Aubin and Mrs. Howard L. Rich of Newton and Miss Catherine Hurd of Milton, cousins of the bride, and Miss Vera Andren of Boston. Miss Elizabeth Koyas of Brookline and Miss Augusta Hallett of Newton. Mr. Harvey Whiting, of Wilton, N. H., a brother of the groom, was his best man. The ushers were Messrs. John K. Whiting, Jr., of Wilton, N. H., a cousin of the groom, Robert Miller of Winchester, James B. Parker and Malcolm N. Stanley of Brookline, George L. Allen of Manchester, and Theodore C. Allen of Boston, all college mates of the groom.

The bride wore a period style gown of palest yellow satin, with a train of the same and a cap of Old Brittany lace with a long tulle veil. Her bridal bouquet was of white and pink lilies. The maid of honor wore deep orchid crepe with irregular skirt line and swathed with bow at back and a felt hat of the same shade with deeper velvet ribbons. She carried yellow gladioli and mixed purple flowers. The bridesmaids' dresses were similar to that of the maid of honor but a lighter shade of orchid crepe de chine. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at "The Homestead," summer home of the bride's parents, at North Chatham, from four to six. The bridal couple were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom.

The church was decorated with two candelabra surrounded by cedar trees and large bunches of mixed flowers. Garden flowers were tastefully arranged at the house. The wedding march was played by Mr. Warren of New York, organist at the church. After a wedding trip to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Whiting will reside at the University Apartments, Cambridge, where they will be at home after October.

The groom is a graduate of Harvard with the class of 1929. Following her graduation from music school the bride studied extensively abroad.

CLARKE-BUTCHER

Yesterday noon Christ Church in Cambridge was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Marion S. Butcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Butcher of Barnstable road, West Newton, was united in marriage to Mr. George L. Clarke, of Providence, Rhode Island. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Prescott Evertz.

Miss Persis Worcester of Cambridge was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Janet Gilbert of Cambridge, Elizabeth Josselyn of Waltham, Barbara and Frances Clarke of Providence, sisters of the groom, Margaret Reese of Wash-

The Rev. James J. Baxter, D.D., pastor of St. Mary's church, officiated at the ceremony which was performed at four o'clock. The double ring service was used.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

The Summer we have just survived will be memorable for several reasons—among them the following:

The continued hot weather with no rain for weeks.

"Ned" Childs' letter.

The halting into court of about half the motoring population of New England for failing to observe the stop signals on Washington street.

The construction of a loading platform for Elevated patrons in Nonantum Square, Newton.

The resurfacing of Centre street in Wards One and Seven.

There may be other things such as the new system of street lights on Centre street. These and remaining topics will have to wait for proper attention in this column. I shall confine myself to the more notable events, because they have engrossed my thoughts as I have passed my vacation plodding through the liquid tar in my rambles about the home town.

The absence of rain was the constant source of worry to those of us who stayed at home. I dare say Newton people who went away for rest and recreation did not escape. In fact, everybody I became acquainted with, whether they had been in the city or in the country, complained of the high price of vegetables and wondered whether there would be any crops to feed upon in the Autumn, Winter and Spring.

Not so very many years ago I enjoyed a visit in Ashfield, Mass., one of those delightful little places where the old New England spirit has been preserved and where industry and other prosaic things have not intruded. At least, they hadn't then, and for that reason I found myself in ideal surroundings. It was one of those dry Summers and the farmers were kicking and the city folks tuning-in so that the general conversation was one of depression and gloom.

One of my favorite hang-outs was the village store where I could swap yarns and get ideas. An old-timer, with whom I became acquainted, was the greatest source of philosophy I could find. For that reason I never missed a chance to engage him in conversation—not such an easy task at first, by the way.

"Why is it you're not whining like the rest?" I asked. "You haven't complained as far as I have heard."

"What's the use?" he replied in true Yankee fashion. "I've lived a good many years and I've noticed that no matter what kind of weather we had, rainy spells or dry spells, there's always been a planting time and always a harvesting time and I guess the Almighty knows what he's about and don't need any advice."

Now as to that famous letter of Mayor Childs in which he told why he did not care to engage in a contest for the Mayoralty with Alderman Weeks. I read it over several times and had the feeling that somehow it didn't sound like Mayor Childs, or rather it didn't read like his usual writings. However, there was no misunderstanding his feelings. I could see that he had something on his mind and took occasion to get it off.

Some say that the Mayor made a mistake. His friends will assure you that he didn't. Well, whether he did or not, Alderman Weeks made no reply, so nobody can accuse him of making a mistake.

About the only thing that the Mayor's letter has accomplished, apart from relieving his mind, is to increase the bitterness of his critics and the loyalty of his friends. Those who think he was right will be stronger for him than ever and those who have always been "agin" him will have additional specifications with which to support their arguments.

If the Mayor had been going to run for reelection the charges made in his letter would have been a neat bit of political strategy. Everyone knows the basis of a good campaign is to call the other fellow names and jockey him into a defensive position whether you have anything with which to support your accusations or not. Facts have nothing to do with it. The secret is to cast aspersions, hoping that two will grow where one grew before.

But Mayor Childs appears to be out of the campaign and Alderman Weeks looms up as the next Mayor. It seems to me if I were Mayor and were not satisfied to have a certain man succeed me in office I would run for reelection or come out in support of a man I believed worthy to be my successor. Neither course is now open to Mayor Childs, as I view it. He has dealt only with his personal reaction to Alderman Weeks' candidacy, which is hardly one thing or the other.

I never saw the police more industrious than they have been in "fixing" those who failed to see the "Stop" signs on Washington street, or, seeing them, decided to ignore the warning and drive right along. I suppose that there is only one way to enforce a city ordinance and that is to watch the conduct of every driver and summons into court each who violates the prescribed regulation, wittingly or otherwise.

Two things usually happen when a driver is stopped and his name taken and other preparations made for his appearance in court. The most probable is an effort, through some influential or supposedly influential friend, to get "things fixed up" so that it will not be necessary for the offender to go to court. In other words, have some arrangement made whereby the policeman who has the case will be "called off" like one would whistle to a faithful Newfoundland watchdog when unexpected visitors drive up to the farm.

I deplore this attempt at "fixing," but I suppose if I were a car owner and found myself in such a fix I should forget my ideals, submerge my natural pride and beg somebody to induce the policeman to "lay off" me. Self-preservation, we are told, is paramount among each individual's first-aid kits. Nevertheless, all endeavors to "pull wires" that a complaint of this kind may be pigeon-holed or completely destroyed is not good citizenship and the fact that some of our best people indulge in it doesn't make it any more desirable as a common practice.

The man who admits having done wrong and who "lies down cold" and lets the policeman put him into court and there pleads guilty and pays his fine is by far the higher type of citizen. One does not always desire to demonstrate his patriotism in this way but in the end he is better off if he does so.

I think that the police vigilance against failure to observe "Stop" signs can easily be overdone. It strikes me that a warning should be sufficient for the first offence. A stranger to Newton who drives past the ugly and grotesquely painted sign may not do so because the thing is offensive in appearance. As a class we are not as sensitive about such things as well we might be. He does so because he hasn't seen the sign and furthermore his mind is new to him. He is headed. The locality is new to him. He doesn't want to drive miles out of his way and he is looking ahead to see where the thoroughfare on which he is driving leads. I saw a man, with his wife and six children, jammed into a small touring car and evidently out for a Sunday afternoon spin. They were happy enough until a policeman held them up for passing the "Stop" sign. It seemed to throw the whole group into a panic. The father had to get out and go through the customary formality while the children, all youngsters, began to whimper and the mother looked scared. It didn't amount to much after all and was only the majestic law making its authority felt. Of course one cannot criticize an officer for doing his duty but in my opinion the welfare of Newton citizens would have been far better served if that policeman had been patrolling his beat and keeping an eye on the men, women and children who plunder orchards and gardens on less frequented streets and play the very mischief with the estates of taxpayers who have a right to expect better police protection than they get.

All this leads up to the problem of disposing of petty offences by automoblists without the necessity of a court trial. The spectacle we have now is that of a herd of respectable men and women hanging around a court room for an opportunity to acknowledge their failure to observe some traffic regulation and pay a fine of $10 or thereabouts. Some days there are 30 or 40 cases in Newton, demanding the time of two judges and clogging the wheels of justice which have enough grinding to do without these trifling matters.

The blame may be laid at the door of the Massachusetts Legislature. I do so, gladly for I have watched that august body conduct business for a number of years. For several sessions the Great and General Court has been petitioned to do something to relieve the situation. But what has it done? Nothing but the customary sidestep.

As if 27 special investigations by committees, commissions and State departments were not sufficient this year's Legislature voted a 28th, to wit, "That the Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to investigate the subject matter of Senate document 307 of the current year and the recommendations on the same was based, and the general subject of the procedure relative to the proper disposition of petty motor vehicle offences, with a view of formulating a more effective, expedient

A number of petitions were received from the Edison Company as follows: petitions for underground conduits on Elmwood street, Channing street, Washington street from Channing to Centre avenue. The Edison and Telephone companies were given legal authority for their pole locations on about 20 streets formerly private ways, but which have been accepted as public streets. No opposition developed to petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Grafton street at the junction of Furber lane, and on Newtonville avenue near Howard street. Frank Garrick, representing the Telephone Company, explained the petition for a 300 gallon gasoline tank at the Newton North exchange on Elmwood street is to provide fuel for a motor which must be used should the Edison power be not available to operate the exchange.

Attorney Holland, appearing for Martin Witmyer asked that his client be granted a permit to conduct a motor-vehicle repair shop at 169 Lexington street, Auburndale. Mr. Holland stated that Witmyer had conducted this shop for 10 years but failed to renew the permit. A protest was received by letter from an owner of adjoining property against Witmyer being allowed to enlarge the shop. Neighbors have complained about the appearance of Witmyer's place.

No persons appeared to favor or oppose the petition of the Newton Savings Bank for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 63-67 Lexington street, West Newton, the site of the Gorgone building destroyed in the hooch still explosion. Alderman Temperley inquired if the charter of the Newton Savings Bank allows it to conduct a gasoline filling station?

Fred Howland asked that he be given a gasoline station permit at 107 Elm street, West Newton. A written protest was received from the Kenmore Realty Corporation owners of an apartment house near the proposed locus of the filling station. This protest claims that the filling station will make it difficult to rent apartments in the building. Mr. Howland told the Aldermen that the apartment house is not owned by the Kenmore Realty Company but by Adena Rich, and that the Realty Company has been making a dump of land adjoining the apartment building, thus creating a nuisance.

Attorney J. J. Walsh appearing for P. J. Keefe asked that a permit be granted to erect a building at 1295 Boylston street, Upper Falls, in connection with a gasoline filling station. This location has had a gaso-

(corner of Beacon and Centre Streets)

MONDAY

THIS is not a chain store step or a merger with any other store. It is a new, beautifully appointed, modern shop where mothers can buy school clothes for boys up to 12 years and for girls up to 14, as well as tots' apparel and infants' wear. Layettes will be a special feature of the infants' section... and a registered nurse will be in attendance to give professional advice. The opening of this shop is an experiment in the light of service for mothers in Newton and surrounding towns who do not care to bring their children into Boston where traffic is congested. We shall duplicate here in fashion, sizes, and prices merchandise carried regularly in our fifth floor departments of the Boston store. This is your invitation to visit our Newton Shop and to use it in whatever way best spells service to you as a Stearns customer.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SULLIVAN NAMES VARSITY SQUAD

Coach John L. Sullivan of the Newton High School football team has named a varsity squad of thirty-three players, following a week of intensive practice sessions. Naturally at this early date there is by no means a certainty that these same lads will be on the squad two weeks from now when the opening game with Malden Sept. 28 rolls around. Those named appear at present to be the best of the one hundred and thirty candidates working out for the four Newton elevens.

The varsity squad consists of seven ends, six tackles, seven guards, two centers and eleven backs. But five of this number have had varsity experience at Newton High while the remainder have played considerably on last year's intermediate and junior varsity elevens or are transfers from other schools where they have had some experience. The five that can be called veterans, Fred Schipper, center; John McCarthy, end; Arthur Boughan, guard; and Henry Furdan and Warren Norton, backs.

The end squad in addition to McCarthy includes Nickerson, Bosworth, Barba, Bankhart, Murphy and Blair. With Nickerson and Bosworth running neck and neck for the opposite wing to McCarthy. The other four ends are still in the running for regular or first substitute positions and it will take some time to determine the best candidate.

Foremost of the tackles is Gordon Lindbergh, a transfer from Evanston, Illinois. Lindbergh is a rangy type of lad and should prove to be one of the strongest points in the orange and black forward line. The other tackle berth is wide open at present with five lads in the running. They are Butler, another rangy youth, Gowell, Lombard, Hamilton, and Gullan. Hamilton is a brother of Alexander Hamilton, a star tackle on the Newton team a few years ago.

The guard situation looks quite promising—in fact more promising than at any other position on the eleven. Arthur Boughan and Edward Moore are the outstanding candidates. Boughan was the first string guard a year ago during the early games but an infraction of the rules caused his dismissal from the squad. Although not of large build Boughan has the strength and ability of a much larger youth and not many gains will be made through his position. Moore is a short, stocky lad weighing in the neighborhood of 190 pounds and despite his weight is quite fast on his feet. The other guard candidates are Kinsley, Williams, Hodgkins, Taylor and Malloy. The former has had some experience as a guard on the St. Mary's High School team two years ago. He was at Newton last year but ineligible for athletics.

At center is Fred Schipper, probably the most seasoned veteran on the squad as he saw considerable action at the berth last year as Arthur Chamberlain's substitute. Schipper is a quiet youth with a steady influence on the rest of the team, plus the ability to snap the ball back. He is one of the two letter men eligible. With Schipper at center and flanked by Boughan and Moore it begins to look as though it would take a real halfback to get through this part of the Newton line. Albert McCarthy is the other center Coach Sullivan has retained. Other than these two there is not much center material available.

Eleven backs have been named on the varsity squad for the present with little or no designation as to which will be halfbacks, fullbacks or quarterbacks. Furdan and Norton were both used in several of the games last year with Furdan, the second letter man on hand the most experienced. The other nine are Shorten, Elrod, Strombom, Walter Bell, Doten, Sutcliffe, Connelly, and Blackler. All of this group have shown sufficient to give the Newton mentor an indication that they may develop. Furdan, Norton, Connelly and Connelly are seniors while the others have one or two more years to play. Sutcliffe is a younger brother of William Sutcliffe, a back two years ago. Blackler is a youth who came up from junior high school and has shown considerable natural ability. He will not be eligible to play until after November first, the end of the first eight week marking period as he was not taking the required number of fourteen credits his last year at junior high school. Connelly was a member of the varsity basketball squad last winter. Elrod, who may be used at fullback, is the only letter man available for next year's baseball team due to the three-year rule.

Newton Youth Managing Wildcats
William Wilder of Newton is the varsity manager of the New Hampshire University football team this season. The Wildcats' prospects for this year's team look good with seventeen letter men from last year's eleven on hand.

BURR NET TEAM TAKES HONORS

The Burr Tennis Association won the 1929 championship of the Old Colony Tennis League on Saturday and Sunday by defeating the Bellevue Club of Melrose 8 to 6 in a match consisting of eight singles and six doubles matches. The local team was the winner of the new division of the league and the Melrose club the winners of the old division of the league in the round robin matches during the past few months.

The league has enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in its history due to the increased number of teams in the league and the fact that the dry weather permitted the playing of the matches nearly as scheduled. Twelve teams comprise the league, this increased number making it necessary to make two divisions. The old division included the Bellevue Club, Winsor Club of Watertown, Arlington Heights, West Medford, Winthrop and Manchester. The new division in addition to Burr comprised the Waban Tennis Club, Belmont, Sagamore of West Medford, Woodland of Malden and the Boston Y. M. C. A.

With the Burr Association and the Bellevue Club teams winning the divisional honors the week-end match was staged to decide the league championship. Seven matches were scheduled for each day's play, four singles and three doubles. On Saturday the local team gained a 4 to 2 lead by winning three of the singles and one of the doubles event. As Donald Martin, number one player of the Burr team, was playing in the finals of the Essex County tourney on Saturday his match with S. P. Crowell of Bellevue was postponed until Sunday morning. In Saturday's singles Abbot Gotschall of Burr defeated D'Arcy of Bellevue 6-0, 8-6; Francis Broughton of Burr defeated Spencer of Bellevue, 6-3, 8-10, 6-1; and Harry Sylvester of Burr defeated Jones of Bellevue, 6-1, 8-10, 6-4. In doubles Sylvester and Karl Anderson were the only local winners Saturday. They defeated Mason and Mansell of Bellevue, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. D'Arcy and Spencer of Bellevue defeated Gotschall and Broughton of Burr, 7-5, 6-4, and Crowell and Jones of Bellevue defeated Broughton and O'Connell of Burr, 6-2, 6-3 for the Melrose team's two points. When Martin met S. P. Crowell of Bellevue on Sunday morning he increased the Burr outfit's lead to 5-2 by winning 2-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Sunday afternoon the second set of matches was played, four singles and three doubles. Martin again vanquished Crowell. Gotschall won his second victory over D'Arcy, after dropping the first set but Spencer of Bellevue turned the tables on Broughton and Lynch who replaced Jones as Bellevue's fourth singles player, defeated Sylvester of Burr giving the two teams an even break in the singles matches.

Martini and Gotschall, former Boston University players who were the number one pair at the Hub university a year or two ago, clinched the championship for the Burr Association by defeating Crowell and G. Jones of Bellevue in straight sets. Spencer and D'Arcy and Lynch and Maskell, the other two Bellevue doubles teams, both won from the Burr pairs, Broughton and Naylor and Sylvester and Anderson.

The cup, the championship prize, was won for the past two years by the Winsor Club of Watertown. It becomes the permanent possession of the club first winning it three times. The matches on Saturday and Sunday were played on the Longwood Cricket Club courts.

SPORT NOTES

Spain To Play Football

Frank Spain, Newton's star athlete of a few years ago, who made a name for himself in Exeter Academy athletics last year, will return to Exeter for another year. Entering the New Hampshire school at mid-years last winter Spain made both the hockey and baseball teams and showed so well that he was elected captain of both sports for the coming year. After an absence of three years from the gridiron Spain will return to the game this fall in an attempt to make the Exeter eleven. Following an ankle injury received in football near the close of the 1926 season the former Waban youth resigned the captaincy of the 1927 team in order to save his ankle from further and perhaps permanent injury. Spain will probably enter either Dartmouth or Yale at the conclusion of his studies at Exeter.

MacIntyre Back At Tabor

Donald MacIntyre, a former Newton high athlete, will return to Tabor Academy for his second year soon. At the Marion school MacIntyre was prominent in football, track and baseball. He plans to enter Cornell University at the completion of his course at Tabor.

Enter Worcester Academy

Phil Andres, Newton high athlete, who was captain-elect of the 1929 football team but was barred from athletics by the new three year rule, will enter Worcester Academy next week. Another of the leading local athletes affected by the same ruling is Arthur Noble of the tennis team. He will also attend Worcester Academy this year.

Newton Pair in Semi-finals

G. Twombly and W. Dynes, Newton Y. M. C. A. tennis doubles team, won their way to the semi-finals of the Boston district tournament last Saturday on the Boston Y courts but were eliminated in a final match by Coe and Kunkel of Lynn. The tourneys, singles and doubles, were staged to decide what players would represent the Boston district in the two-State Y. M. C. A. championships at Springfield tomorrow. J. Carr of Newton was put out of the singles event in a semi-final round match with Lipman of Lynn.

UPPER FALLS AND TOWN CLUB MEET

The Upper Falls A. A., Newton Twelfth League champions, and the Newton Town Club, are playing a seven-game series for the city baseball championship. Three games have been played to date with each team winning one and the other ended in a tie. The next game will be played tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock on the Upper Falls diamond. The fourth game will be played at the same field and at the same time on Sunday.

Last Saturday's game which was won by Upper Falls was a thirteen inning affair with the Upper Falls team pushing over the run needed to win at 3 to 2. Smith pitched good ball for the Town Club and deserved a better fate. Leo Crowley was on the mound for Upper Falls and he went the full distance. It would have been a tough game for either pitcher to lose.

SPORT NOTES

Haggood One of Dozen

Ernest G. Haggood, former Newton high star tackle, is one of a dozen letter men at Brown University that are on the varsity squad working out under Coach McLaughry. Haggood won his "B" last fall when he substituted in the line in several games. Kevorkian, guard last year who also was a former Newton linesman, graduated last June.

McCoy on the Job

Alfred McCoy, former Newton high, Dean Academy, Penn State and Lafayette athlete, who has succeeded Rufus Bond as coach of basketball and baseball at Northeastern University is on the job. The Huskies basketball team, which last year was the best ever produced there, has returned practically intact, but one letter man having graduated. The baseball outlook is not so good as many of this year's team have graduated, including Neil Mahoney, star catcher, formerly of Newton Upper Falls.

Adams to Coach at Taft

Robert Adams, of Needham, captain and end of the Newton high football team a few years ago, who graduated from Bowdoin last June has been appointed a teacher and assistant football coach to Al Fusonie, ex-Dartmouth star, at Taft school, Watertown, Conn. Adams was one of the foremost ends turned out by the late Allie Dickinson and at Bowdoin won his way to recognition as All-Maine calibre.

Three Local Youths Prospects

For many years Newton athletes have been matriculating at Dartmouth college and earning their places on major sport teams there. But it is doubtful if there ever was the time when three local youths were ever chosen to regular positions on the Green football team. Indications of that occurrence taking place this fall is promising. Harold Andres should have little difficulty clinching the pivot berth on the team this fall after starting every game as a sophomore last year. In addition it begins to look as though both Leonard Clark and Henry Johnson will be in the backfield. At present they, together with Al Masters and Shepp Wolf are the Team A quartet, with Johnson at fullback, Masters at quarter and Clark and Wolf at the halves.

Bowdoin Has First Workout

The Bowdoin college varsity squad had its first workout on Tuesday of this week with three local youths reporting. Several veterans are available for the backfield including Stuart Stone of West Newton. Bob Thayer of Marblehead, who attended Newton high for a year, has returned to the team. Two years ago he was one of the speediest backs on the team but appendicitis kept him out in 1928. The other two local players on the squad are sophomores. They are Creighton Gatchell, star centre at Newton High two years ago, and George Souther of Waban, an end. Souther attended Huntington school where he was a prominent athlete.

SPORT NOTES

Shares One Title

Miss Virginia Rice, Newton Centre girl who has been playing a prominent part in many major tennis tournaments in the East this season, shared one of the titles at Philadelphia last week with her partner, Mrs. Wm. Endicott, in the Middle States Doubles. Miss Rice was entered in most of the events, including girls' national singles and doubles, but was put out in the late rounds. Miss Rice and Mrs. Endicott defeated Miss Andrus and Miss Hilleary in the title match of the doubles, 6-3, 6-4, last Saturday. Miss Rice and Miss Parsons were put out of the girls' doubles in the semi-final round Friday.

Martin Loses in Final

Don Martin was defeated by Victor Hockmeyer of New York in the final round of the Essex County championships last week Saturday. The winner was in doubt until the fifth set with Martin trailing near the end. Hockmeyer won at 5-7, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0. The winner's service was a big feature throughout the match. The final set was much closer than the score indicates.

Places in Heats

Two local youths placed in their respective heats of the Men's 100-yard handicap freestyle swimming race at the Brookline Swimming Club last Saturday. C. E. Collins with a 5 second handicap won the first heat and John Davidson, with a similar handicap, placed second to the scratch man, Ray Hall of Brookline in the fourth heat. Both failed to place in the final, however.

McCruden Back at N. U.

Jimmie McCruden, former Newton high star track man, has returned to Northeastern University. As captain of the freshman team at the Hub university last fall McCruden made quite a name for himself as a half-miler. His return to school and to the track squad which was called out the end of the week is a boost to the Huskies prospects on the cinders and boards.

"Cravenette"

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

This is the season when friends who have not seen each other for several weeks meet and exchange greetings somewhat after this manner:

"Have you had a pleasant Summer?"
"Yes, thank you. Have you?"
"Quite pleasant, thanks."
"Been away?"
"Yes, we went down to the Cape for a month. Where did you go?"

I won't continue. You have heard the same thing yourselves so many, many times. But I'll let you in on a secret. I have dropped asking such questions myself. Not that I am envious because I have nothing to relate. O, no, but for a far different reason. I have encountered several unexpected snags and now I hold my tongue.

Only last week a business associate of mine came back from his vacation and I promptly extended the usual felicitations.

"Don't talk to me about vacations," he growled. "If I ever go away I hope you'll have me taken into custody. Why, I did more planning for this Summer and I thought I was going to have the time of my life. Well, what happened? After we got settled in our cottage my wife got sick with ptomaine poisoning and we had to return as soon as she was able. When she got well again we took a long trip. I had trouble with my car, put out money on tires and other things and after I got it all fixed up somebody stole it. And the worst of it was I didn't have it insured against theft. No more vacation for me!"

Before I could offer my condolences another of the group spoke up. "Don't talk to me, either, about vacations," he snarled. "I tried to take an inexpensive fishing trip. Thought I could rough it and have a good time all by myself. Well, the scheme worked all right only I dropped a $250 diamond ring over the side of the boat, that's all."

I can't bear to hear tales of hard luck so I'm not making inquiries of returned vacationers any longer.

I have been studying the architecture of the new waiting platform for elevated railroad in Nonantum Square. Inasmuch as the idea is a good one I don't wish to be too critical. However, the best I can say is that where facilitating passenger traffic is concerned the platform is all right as far it goes. Certainly it cannot be said that the city, which is responsible for the construction of the platform, has deprived the motorists or the street railway company of any of its highway rights. I don't think I ever saw such a narrow loading platform unless it was a gang-plank. Regular patrons, after a time, should be qualified to undertake to walk a tight-rope. Two lines of passengers are obliged to crowd themselves together and at that back themselves against the chain. One line of people is about all that can comfortably occupy the space.

Another feature that impressed me was the post with a cement base which occupies the end of the platform nearest the police station. It has been placed right in the direct path of those who enter the reserved area at that end. At present it is practically an obstacle. Evidence of this is shown by a recent incident. Two elderly ladies were headed for the reservation. One was assisting the other whose steps were noticeably slow, denoting a feeble gait. When they reached the post of which I speak a Boston-bound car was approaching from Watertown. The younger of the two women did not dare let go her companion's arm, and in order they might pass the post side by side, the younger woman had to walk several feet on the car tracks. The motorist saw the situation and stopped his car until the two women were both on the loading platform. That clearly shows something amiss.

If this is the situation when riding is comparatively light what may we look for when there are many passengers? Business will soon be picking up and before many moons have waxed and waned there will be crowds of passengers. I think this means trouble. The platform has a perceptible slope, the reason for which I cannot understand, not possessing an engineering mind. The slope, as far as I am able to observe, makes it difficult footing. Where will we be or where will our feet be in the ice and snow? There are plenty of lights, which is one thing I hasten to commend. It surely will permit one to watch one's step with clear vision. Possibly a trial during the days of heavier travel will prove that the platform should be wider and that proof will be so conclusive that some necessary improvements will be made without delay.

Getting things ready for the youngsters to go back to school surely has its complications. At present we have to consider things that were never thought of some years ago. I do not refer to wardrobes, for that problem has changed little and clothes and shoes and those essential articles have for generations been a subject of domestic discussion and adjustment.

What I had in mind was this matter of providing a safe way for the youngsters to make their trips back and forth. I noticed near the Underwood school the other day that city workers were painting traffic lanes, or rather indicating with stripes of white paint on the surface of the highway such places as are to be construed as street crossings. This means that there will be traffic policemen on duty to shepherd the little folks. And in addition to the officers that the Boy Scouts will continue their splendid work of directing traffic at the most dangerous crossings before and after school.

The children who walk are not the only ones. There are those who drive or who are driven to school and here again is another matter to be settled in the confines of the family circle. If it is mother who takes charge of the transportation she has to rearrange her household duties in order to be ready to drive the car. If it is father who shoulders the responsibility his going-to-business-hours must be made to fit into the general scheme.

As for the boys and girls who have their cars, the cars must be at their disposal and that means they should be ready for their exclusive use. Some young people are fussy about the car they drive and if they can't have just what they want they become peevish. However, there's another home matter.

I have long preached against the riding of bicycles on the sidewalk but I hope I am sufficiently liberal in my views to appreciate what is in the minds of those Waban parents who would like to have a section of the Beacon-street sidewalk reserved for young bicyclists who use their bicycles to get to school and back. In Europe they still think well of bicycles and for my part I think that we in this country make a mistake in turning up our noses at the faithful old "bike." If letting the children in Waban ride their bicycles on the sidewalk certain hours of the day will show to grown-ups that after all bicycles are useful and might well be more commonly used I may be recorded in approval of the Waban project.

But about school days. The schools are there and the law requires that pupils shall attend. The parent is up to father and mother or the other folks at home, who will now take up their usual duties. One would think that only the children have to work when school reopens, but some folks know better.

There is a reader of this column who would like to see me in trouble. At least, if I carried out his suggestion I know there would be visited upon my head more imprecations than I could reasonably survive. He writes that at a Summer place where he spent his vacation he was disgusted by the conduct of young, middle-aged and old women who "smoked cigarettes in public." He urges that this column contain a protest. Inasmuch as he understands the words "in public" I have an idea that he might not object if the smoking were done privately. However, that is an assumption.

"Think of this spectacle," says the correspondent. "A young woman and her father came into the dining room for lunch. I thought it a very happy picture as they were obviously fond of each other and furthermore there was such a striking family resemblance that I easily imagined she was her father's favorite. It was a pretty domestic scene from my point of view until after the luncheon when the girl took out her cigarette case, offered her father a cigarette, which he accepted and both began smoking!"

After citing this example my friend goes on to say that "mere girls, youthful maidens and dumpy dowagers all smoked without regard to the looks of things." He closes by telling me that I would be doing a public service if I were to make the offenders "feel cheap" by poking fun at them.

I regret that I must decline the opportunity. I don't know where the thing would lead. Or, rather, I do know. We wouldn't get anywhere. It is like the trick question, "Have you stopped beating your wife?" Either "Yes" or "No" in reply means nothing and any opinions of cigarette smoking among women that I might offer would contribute practically zero to what is plainly a circular argument.

I will go as far as to say that to me it is a matter of taste. Or should I say a question of choice. Possibly my friend's sensitive nature was offended

POLICE NEWS

Ralph Brock of 1288 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, was sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Brown in the Newton court last Friday for non-support of his wife. The Newton police had been endeavoring to apprehend Brock for nearly a year, so learning that he was stopping at the Allston address, Inspector King and Patrolman Frank Feeley went to Allston on September 5 to get Brock. Feeley went to the front door of the house and asked for the wanted man. He was informed that the party desired had not been at the address for a week. As this information was being given Brock jumped out a window at the rear of the house and was nabbed by Inspector King. He had not reckoned that the Newton officers anticipated just such a move on his part.

Harry Jasper of Boston was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for speeding. Jasper was also charged by Motorcycle Officer Dowling with going away after an accident without making himself known. Jasper's car and one driven by Douglas Furbush of West Newton were in collision. Furbush had gone on a trip to Canada and so was not present to testify. Judge Brown found Jasper not guilty on the second charge.

Vincenzo Salpietro of Waltham was found not guilty in the Newton court on Saturday when charged with accosting a person of the opposite sex. A West Newton woman complained to Patrolman Reagan the preceding night that Salpietro had spoken to her and had also annoyed her by speaking to her on other occasions. Reagan arrested the Waltham man but as Vincenzo had said nothing worse than "How do you do," Judge Weston found him not guilty but warned him to desist from speaking to the woman in the future.

Walter Collins of Broadway, Chelsea was in the Newton court Saturday charged with passing a worthless check. His case was continued until September 11th. Collins gave a check for $20 to Fred Dennis of the Lower Falls in payment for an old automobile. Dennis could not cash the check because Collins had no funds in the bank. After Collins had been arrested by the Newton police it was learned he was wanted by the Boston police for twice evading taxi fares.

A car owned by G. P. Whitehouse of Lexington was stolen from opposite the Raytheon tube factory on Chapel street, Nonantum last Friday night.

A car stolen in Boston on September 4 from John Savage of Hanford street, Dorchester, was found on Elmwood street, Newton on Friday evening by Patrolman Tegan.

Lionel Young of 45 Brooks avenue, Newtonville, was arrested early Sunday morning by Patrolman McCormick charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried September 17.

Ambrose Buckley of Wedgewood avenue, West Newton, was arrested Sunday by Sgt. Veducio charged with being A. W. O. L. from the U. S. Navy. Buckley was surrendered to a guard from the navy yard.

John Giannetti of rear 190 Adams street was arrested Saturday afternoon charged with non-support of his family. He will be tried September 16.

In court on Monday Percy Hodges of 270 Bay State road, Boston, was fined $5 for not stopping before entering Washington street. Theodore Parker of Wellesley charged with speeding had his case placed on file.

Joseph Thorley of 38 Harlow street, Roxbury, was convicted of bigamy in the Newton court on Tuesday and sentenced to two years in jail by Judge Weston. He appealed and was held in $5000 bonds, in default of which he was taken to the Cambridge jail. Thorley has a wife and five children in the Roxbury address, the children ranging in age from 4 to 10 years. Some time ago he deserted them and a warrant for non-support had been issued against him. On August 25th Thorley married Miss Ruth R. Kelley of 103 Court street, Newtonville, who had known him as Joseph Hagan of Malden. On September 2nd, Thorley went to Springfield.

Inspector Richard Goode of the Newton police learned of Thorley's duplicity and informed the Newton girl of the deception which had been practiced upon her. So when "Hagan" telegraphed his Newton bride to meet him at the Worcester railroad station last Monday night the Newton girl went to Worcester accompanied by Goode who arrested the bigamist.

Providence, Fall River, Franklin, and W. M. C. A. Last week Newton met Brockton and defeated it 5-0.

Three of the members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming teams entered the New England Swimming Championships held Saturday at the Brookline Swimming Pool but failed to place in the finals. They were: Edgar Davidson, Sumner Anderson, and Charles Collins.

St. Albert Hoffman, who has been Assistant Boys' Secretary since December, 1928, leaves Monday, Sept. 16th, to enter Springfield College. He is planning to take the course in Boys' Work.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Norumbega District School of Religious Education will open again this Fall for its Ninth Season, on Monday evening, October 7th, in the Newtonville Methodist Church, at 7:30 p. m., continuing for ten Monday evenings, as heretofore.

Church School workers and others interested in Bible study are invited to attend. The outstanding instructor this year will be Dr. Sidney A. Weston, resident of Wellesley, and author of many popular textbooks for use of young people in the church school. His course may be described as follows: "A Study of Jesus; the man, his problems, his message, his methods, based upon the Gospel of Mark." This course will combine content or material with teaching method; that is, the application of truths and principles in Jesus' life to the solving of problems in modern life.

Other courses on practical methods of teaching the different ages of children and adolescents in the church school will also be given. More detailed announcement will be made later.

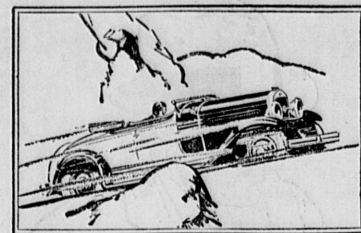

TRAIN HITS NONANTUM WOMAN

Mrs. Jennie Russo, 67, of 9 Cook street, Nonantum was struck by a train on the Watertown branch of the Boston & Maine railroad last Friday morning. The woman was walking between the two tracks from Bemis towards West Watertown where she was going to visit relatives. The milk train came along and the engineer sounded the whistle. Instead of stepping onto the left track she walked onto the right and was hit. She was removed to the Waltham Hospital where it was found serious injuries to her back and right arm. Her name was placed on the danger list.

OLD NEWTON BUSINESS IN NEW QUARTERS

T. Stuart & Son Company Move to Modern Plant at Watertown

After having been established in Newton for over sixty years the firm of T. Stuart & Son Company, one of the best known contracting companies in New England moved its plant last week to Watertown. The new headquarters of the company occupy a large area of the property formerly known as the Union Market Stock Yards along side of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

In 1865 the late Timothy Stuart, a native of Saco, Maine, came to Newton and started in the contracting business. From a modest beginning, with small equipment the founder of this business, by hard work and honest treatment of his patrons gradually expanded his activities. The business has been conducted since 1879 from 222 Pearl street, Newton, where about three acres of land were covered by yard buildings and office.

They have constructed six bridges over the Charles River including the new Cottage Farm Bridges, Western avenue and the John W. Weeks Memorial Bridge; also the Portland to South Portland Bridge over the harbor at Portland, Maine; the Washington Memorial Bridge on the New York State Road, over the Housatonic River between Stratford and Milford, Connecticut, and the Queen City Bridge over the Merrimack River at Manchester, New Hampshire; the elimination of grade crossings and track elevation at Lynn, Mass., for the Boston and fifty trucks; also a service building, oil storage, heating plant and compressed air service together with a modern machine shop for repair work. The shop building is 110 feet long by 50 feet wide equipped with all modern tools with travelling cranes and with a spur track of the Boston and Maine Railroad running to the center of the shop. In addition to the railroad facilities above referred to the plant is centrally located so that the firm's business can be advantageously handled.

Before the arrival of automobiles and trucks the firm maintained a large stable of horses which have now all disappeared.

The yard of the new plant has been which started with contracts of a small scope confined to Newton soon broadened into a larger field.

About 1890 Frank H. Stuart, who is now President and Treasurer of the Company, became associated with his father. The early contracts of considerable magnitude undertaken by the Company were the construction of the Revere Beach Parkway at Crescent Beach, the construction of a substantial portion of the Boston and Worcester Railroad and also a portion of the Commonwealth avenue boulevard through Newton, together with the construction of double track Railroad from West Roxbury to Needham Junction for the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

For many years the concern has specialized in bridge construction with a result that they have built many Railroad bridges, terminal yards and various construction projects for New England Railroads. The main pipe extensions of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company have been laid by this company for some years. The business has been conducted since 1879 from 222 Pearl street, Newton, where about three acres of land were covered by yard buildings and office.

They have constructed six bridges over the Charles River including the new Cottage Farm Bridges, Western avenue and the John W. Weeks Memorial Bridge; also the Portland to South Portland Bridge over the harbor at Portland, Maine; the Washington Memorial Bridge on the New York State Road, over the Housatonic River between Stratford and Milford, Connecticut, and the Queen City Bridge over the Merrimack River at Manchester, New Hampshire; the elimination of grade crossings and track elevation at Lynn, Mass., for the Boston and covered with a bituminous macadam pavement and presents a very neat appearance. The Company employs on an average of between 700 and 800 men and the inventory of its plant and equipment runs up to a large figure. During the past half century it gave employment to a large number of residents of Newton and its payrolls for years have been among the largest of any corporation in this city.

Mr. Frank H. Stuart, the head of the Company, in addition to the multiple duties which devolve upon him in conducting a business of such size manages to find time to act as President of the Newton and Nonantum Co-operative Banks and is a Director of the Newton Trust Company. He is now having erected for occupancy this autumn a residence on the corner of Ward street and Woodchester drive.

Mr. Albert T. Stuart of the Stuart-Marshall Realty Company was formerly a partner in the firm and Mr. Frank H. Stuart's son, Mr. Raymond T. Stuart is Vice President and Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation.

NEWTON CENTRE MAN KILLED

About 1 o'clock last Sunday morning Mrs. Patrick Sweeney, while in her husband's taxi cab office at the Centre street bridge in Newton Corner, heard groans coming from the Boston & Albany railroad tracks nearby. She informed her husband and he notified the police. Patrolmen Laughlin, Teegan and Geegan responded and upon investigating found two young Newton Centre men lying in the culvert which runs alongside the tracks. One was seriously injured and the other was dead. The injured man recovered consciousness after being taken to the Newton Hospital and identified himself as Philip Foley, 23, of 282 Langley road, Newton Centre. It was learned that the dead man was Linus King, 24, of 22 Langley road, Newton Centre. Foley also gave the information that King and he had been accompanied by Walter Henriks, 18, of 42 Newbury street, Newton Centre.

The police interviewed Henriks and from him learned that the trio had been in Boston Saturday night and upon arriving at Newton Corner in a Boston Elevated car went behind the business blocks bounded by Centre and Washington streets and the railroad tracks. While they were there a policeman came in the alley leading from Washington street to the area to make his regular inspection of the back doors of the stores nearby. Thinking the policeman was after them, the three Newton Centre young men fled. Henriks ran out another alley leading to Centre street. King and Foley climbed over a high board fence which is between the place and the Boston & Albany property. On the other side of the fence is a steep bank which leads to the top of the high granite wall forming one side of the depressed right of way of the railroad. Down this embankment and over the wall King and Foley fell, landing 20 feet below in the granite culvert. King's skull was fractured in the fall and he was killed. Foley received severe injuries to his back. King is survived by a widow and one child, his parents, two sisters and two brothers. His funeral service was held Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

THE ERIE CANAL IN 1830

As the country expanded westward between the years 1820-30 better means of communication were needed; there was a growing demand for new roads and canals. The first canal, the Erie, was finished in 1826 and the effects were great and immediate. Soon a great movement of population to the west was stimulated and New York became the most populated state in the Union.

Personal supervision of all details assures our patrons freedom from all unnecessary responsibilities at a particularly trying time.

The proposed new rates for insurance on automobiles affects thousands of owners all through the state. Motorists who reside in the zones where a large increase over previous years is proposed are naturally making a strong protest. We sympathize with them in the attempt to make these rates uniform throughout the state and not to penalize residents in certain cities and towns. A zoning for fire insurance rates seems eminently fair but when it comes to a moving piece of machinery we fail to see why residence should be a factor. The fitness of the operator should be a determining factor in automobile insurance rates.

We are of the opinion that President Rogers of Technology was so pleased with the publicity given him some months ago on the subject of "Shoeb" that he hoped to have it continued by assailing the value of women school teachers. We think he has labelled an army of splendid, hard working and efficient teachers by his suggestion that men are more efficient than women in that field of endeavor. He evidently fails to differentiate between teachers of young children and those of older years. Women are certainly better fitted to train the younger pupils, and we have no fear that men shall ever supplant them in that field of education.

AUTO HITS NEWTON HIGHLANDS MAN

Gannett F. Allen of 38 Aberdeen street, Newton Highlands, was seriously injured at Hingham on the night of September 5th, when he was hit by a car alleged to have been driven by Michael Dunn of Myrtle street, Rockland. Mr. Allen was found lying on the street and was taken to the Cohasset Hospital where it was found he had concussion of the brain and injuries to his head, shoulder and right leg. His name was put on the danger list. Dunn was later arrested by the Hingham police charged with being a "hit and run" driver. He was accused of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public and of going away after an accident without revealing his identity. Mr. Allen's condition is as well as can be expected considering the seriousness of his injuries.

INSPECT NEWTON TRAFFIC TOWERS

Yesterday morning Mayor Beals of Waltham and Public Works Commissioner Bram of that city accompanied by Street Commissioner Stuart made an inspection of the traffic towers at Nonantum Square, Newton and at Newton Centre. They were quite pleased with these two towers and it is probable that Waltham will order one similar for installation at the junction of Moody and Main streets.

line station on it for several years and recently changed ownership. Mr. Walsh explained that it is desired to improve the station by erecting a more attractive building there. A protest was received from Louis Dardano of 985 Chestnut street who claimed that the existing building at the station was erected nearer his property than the law allows.

John Toperzer of Larchmont avenue, Waban, urged that a sewer be constructed in that street and that an opening be left for the purpose of removing the plague of rats which now infest that neighborhood. James Blue urged that a sidewalk be built on Circuit avenue. Another resident of that street told of his lawn gradually disappearing as persons walked further onto it each year using it as a walk. Ernest P. Dow of Wauwinet road asked for the early improving of this street and told of automobiles getting mired there. This street is on the location of the former Wauwinet Dairy Farm.

On the recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Aldermen voted to grant leave to withdraw to the petitions of Charlemont and Oak Hill residents for bus service to these districts by the Middlesex & Boston Company and to the petition of James Olmstead for bus service from Waban to Lake street via Beacon street. Chairman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee explained that there would be no bus service to these districts by the Middlesex & Boston Company and to the petition of James Olmstead for bus service from Waban to Lake street via Beacon street. Chairman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee explained that there would be no bus service to these districts by the Middlesex & Boston Company and to the petition of James Olmstead for bus service from Waban to Lake street via Beacon street.

Alderman Temperley of Ward 5 spoke at length on the matter of the need of more land for recreation purposes at the Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls. He praised Stuart, Wheeler of the School Department and quoted Mr. Wheeler as remarking that the people of Upper Falls have been very patient to endure the insufficient accommodations provided for the school children of that village. Mr. Temperley went into detail to show the congested conditions at the Emerson School where in addition to crowded rooms, between 500 and 600 children must play during recreations on Pettie street. He contrasted this condition with the 10 acres of land recently purchased near Clark street for proposed high schools and the probability that 5 additional acres will be bought here to assure ample space.

He criticized the Aldermen for not acting favorably on the recommendation of Mayor Childs made last Spring, to buy more land at the Emerson School. He called attention to the fact that the portable school building which was supposed to have been ready at the Emerson School grounds at the opening of school, is not yet there. He asked that the Mayor's recommendation be acted upon and that measures be taken to assure the portable school being at least ready for use next year.

Alderman Gallagher supported Mr. Temperley's contentions and advocated the purchase by the city of about an acre of land adjoining the school grounds. Alderman Collins replying to Alderman Temperley stated that the members of the Aldermen on the joint committee on school buildings has followed the recommendations of the School Committee regarding the providing of space for a portable school and playground at the Emerson School. The school committee had stated that if the old Wade School is removed, sufficient room will be provided. Mr. Collins called attention to the fact that there is now more land at the Emerson School site than at the Claff School and that the proposed new Junior High School at Newton Centre will take many pupils from the Emerson School.

KIWANIS CLUB

The last meeting of the summer season of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held in the Old Venice Restaurant at Norumbega Park on Tuesday evening. About 250 members and guests attended the dinner which preceded the annual benefit show which was held at 8 o'clock in the Norumbega Park Theatre. The entertainment was under the direction of Will White and was without question the finest vaudeville entertainment ever presented in the city. The excellence of the entertainment provided by the various contributing artists was attested by the prolonged applause of the largest audience which has up to date attended a Kiwanis benefit.

The proceeds of this entertainment are turned into the charity fund of the Kiwanis Club out of which its various activities are financed and it is safe to say that 90% of the proceeds will be devoted to underprivileged child work in the City of Newton. ASK DAMAGES FROM CITY

A claim against the City of Newton has been made by Andrew Morgan of Framingham whose car was in collision a couple of weeks ago with a car driven by an employee of the Sewer Department of this city. The accident occurred at the blind corner caused by the railroad bridge at Putnam and Margin streets, West Newton. Mrs. Marion C. Howland wants the city to pay her $10.75 to compensate for a pair of shoes ruined by tar. Said tar was smeared on Mrs. Howland's shoes when she was crossing Washington street near Centre avenue at Newton.

Another claim is from Patrolman George Henrikus of the Newton police. Henrikus wants the city to pay a doctor's bill of $18 for repairs made to his nose. His nose was damaged during the capture of a bootlegger who was chased by a squad of Newton police several months ago and captured at Chestnut Hill. According to one version it was alleged the man arrested for transporting booze walloped Henrikus. But, according to popular impression the haymaker that did the damage came from the wild swing of a Newton Centre policeman who started to bounce one off the prisoner's face, but with poor sense of direction hit his brother officer's nose instead.

PINGREE—CURTIS

Miss Elizabeth Walker Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Browne Curtis of 9 Newsome Park, Jamaica Plain, was married to Arthur Clayton Pingree of Newtonville and New Bedford, son of the late Walter and Agnes J. Pingree, on Monday evening, September 9, at eight o'clock at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Jamaica Plain. Rev. Clarence F. Avey was the officiating clergyman. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Lester C. Shirley of Arlington was the matron of honor, and Miss Miriam Cummings of New York City was the maid of honor. The other attendants were Mrs. H. Nelson Raymond of Jamaica Plain, Mrs. Herbert F. Fulton of Roslindale, Miss Muriel Batchelor of Wollastone and Miss Mildred Hayes of Alton, New Hampshire. The best man was Mr. Lester C. Shirley of Arlington. The list of ushers included Clark C. Curtis of Albany, New York, a brother of the bride, Curtis D. Cummings of Dorchester, William P. Fowler of Newtonville and Herbert Fulton of Roslindale.

The bride wore a gown of ivory velvet with a veil of lace and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore a green crepe and the maid of honor wore a pink satin. Both carried pink roses. Two of the bridesmaids wore orchid color crepe and two wore yellow crepe, and all carried yellow roses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Both the church and home were decorated with gladioli, palms and ferns.

After a wedding trip to Norfolk, Baltimore, Washington, Atlantic City and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Pingree will reside in the Parkway Apartments, New Bedford.

The bride is a graduate of the Lealand Powers School of the Spoken Word, Boston.

TERKELSON—TITUS

Miss Helen Elizabeth Titus, daughter of Albert G. Titus of 48 Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, was married to Albert Bernard Terkelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Terkelson of 12 Bradford road, Chestnut Hill on Saturday afternoon, September seventh, at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. Rev. Ben Roberts performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

There were no attendants and owing to a recent bereavement there was no reception.

The bride wore an ensemble suit of brown panne velvet with a tan chiffon blouse and hat of brown velvet. She carried a mixed bouquet.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains and Lake Winnepesaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Terkelson will reside at Chestnut Hill.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College, class of 1929 and the groom of Boston University. He is a member of the Lambda Phi fraternity.

NEWTON'S WORLD JAMBOREE TROOP HOME

pleasant surprise to Council leaders and to parents.

Sailed July 17th
The Troop sailed from Hoboken, New Jersey, on the S. S. Roosevelt, on July 17th, amid the cheers of parents and friends assembled at the dock. In addition to his regular equipment, each Scout of the Newton Troop had a hunting knife inscribed with his name during the World Jamboree, 1929, which had been presented to him by President Maynard Hutchinson, of Norumbega Council, when the Troop was lined up preparatory to departure from Newton. Each also had a large bright orange poncho, made especially and presented by Scout Commissioner John M. Blier.

During the trip across, which was smooth practically all of the way, several of the Scouts were seasick and assumed that well known greenish-yellow color, but they were game and quickly recovered from that new experience.

Troop Landed at Plymouth, England

On July 26th, the Roosevelt sailed into Plymouth Harbor and the Troop was lighted ashore. Mr. Wilson P. Harris chaperoned the luggage here as well as during the rest of the trip and, due to his efficient management and successful "wangling" the Newton Troop lost not one single piece of baggage during the entire trip. From Plymouth, the famous Boat Troop carried them to London, under the eagle eye of Captain Gandolfo, of Thomas Cook and Son, who later became known as "Skipper" to the entire Troop.

In London the Scouts saw everything there was to see, including the change of Guard at Buckingham Palace, all the famous spots and buildings, the Wax Works and attended an English variety show which was excellent. They came to know English tea and marmalade, English taxis, the buses, the underground, and all the other things for which that country is so well famed.

They went to Shakespeare country and drove all the way; to Windsor Castle, to Eton and to Hampton Court. They went to Warwick Castle and there saw the Earl of Warwick. At Warwick City, they had lunch in an old Inn and were greeted by the Mayor of the City, who wore his chain and seal and was hovered over by the Beadle and Town Crier.

Orange Ponchos' First Appearance

During the trip to Eton the first rain of the trip was encountered and the famous orange ponchos made their first public appearance. As the Newton Scouts marched in file or column or Troop front through the famous Gardens of Hampton Court, "given" by the cardinal to Henry VIII, they were the cynosure of all eyes. Parties of American and English and other tourists stopped to watch the Scouts as they made a line of orange fire among the dripping trees and shrubs of the Gardens.

Off to the Jamboree

On the 29th of July the Troop took the train to Liverpool, for the Jamboree. The night of the 29th, prior to reporting officially to the Jamboree, the Troop went to the State Restaurant in Liverpool, a beautiful place, where they were received and treated like royalty. That night they stopped in an old inn at Rock Ferry, a suburb of Birkenhead, where mine host was an English host of the old type.

The next morning the Troop left for the Jamboree Grounds at Arrow Park, three miles away. There they found the long box containing the Long House which had been sent from this country.

Long House Feature of the American Camp

The Long House was designed by Mr. Harris, known as "Uncle Pat," and specifications were drawn up by Mr. A. L. Shaw, Scoutmaster of Troop 15, Auburndale. The Scouts of that Troop set it up at Nobscot, it was properly marked and then knocked down, boxed and sent to England by Commissioner Blier.

The Newton Long House, known as the home of the Norumbega Tribe of Indians, was set up in a most conspicuous place, at the left of the main American Headquarters and was backed by two teepees of Indian Scouts from Oklahoma and wigwams or hogans of Scouts from Itasca, Minnesota. Hundreds of visitors came to the Long House, including General Davies, Ambassador to England and scores of people brought by Dr. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America and Mr. G. B. Rich, American Camp Chief.

NEWTON UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

Washington Park, Newtonville
Morning Service
10:45

Sermon theme: "Religion as an Attitude toward Life." A part of man's nature is religious, or at least, a part of man's nature expresses itself in a way we call religion. This expression can never be safely coined into static doctrines, or solidified into institutions designed to be permanent. Religion must always face forward, never backward in its outlook. It is Spirit or Attitude, not form, creed or ecclesiastical organization.

LOCAL PASTOR CHALLENGES PARENTS

The Rev. John Shade Franklin, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton, offers a significant challenge to the fathers and mothers of Newton in his sermon for this Sunday morning. The subject is "Our Greatest Wealth."

In the Lincoln Park Baptist Evangelical paper of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, under date of September 13th, Mr. Franklin opens an intensive church school drive with the following editorial:

Do You Know?

"Do you know that your great-grandchildren will be savages in a vast wilderness, that they will look back upon this era as a Golden Age forever vanished, if the parents of today do not actively support and utilize our Church Schools?"

"The only means of defense that the human race has against its inherent appetites and passions, its selfish greed and materialistic ambitions, is the teaching of the Man of Nazareth. In our homes, our chief consideration of the boys and girls has to do with their physical well-being. In our public schools the assimilation of the subject matter presented is the principal aim. It is left for the Church alone, through its Church School and other less-closely affiliated organizations, to build the foundations for an understanding and appreciation of spiritual values."

"Without the Church School, Jesus' Laws of Life, Faith and Love, upon which are based all forms of human association and co-operation, will soon pass from the philosophy of the race. Without Faith and Love, Fear and Greed will soon bring ruin through the terrifying effectiveness of our engines of destruction."

In line with this challenge the week of September 15th will be devoted to the needs of the boys and girls, the young men and young women, for the finest type of religious training in the Church School. There are many parents today who disparage the value of religion. Being unconcerned themselves, they do not feel the importance of the ethical and moral training of the church school for their children. Therefore it has become necessary in a City of Churches for religious workers to seek diligently in all sections lest many of the younger generation lose those privileges which have come down to us in rich heritage from the religious experience of the past.

At the Church School hour, 9:45 a. m., a Rally Day program will be given. The evening service at 7:30 p. m. will be in charge of the young people. Mr. Franklin will preach briefly on the topic, "Who's Who and Why." The Church School and its work will be the object of special thought and prayer at the regular prayer service, 7:45 p. m. Thursday, September 19th.

In Return for Gift of Bow and Arrows

The Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, Newton, Mass., have just received from President Gaston Doumergue of the French Republic an autographed photograph of himself in full dress costume of his office.

When the Newton Scouts were in Paris they went to the Palace de l'Elysee, through the offices of Mr. Norman Armour, charge d'affaires, of the U. S. Embassy, and presented to the military representative of President Doumergue a bow and arrows as a good-will token. This bow was a three-piece affair, an exact replica of the bows used by the New England Indians in the days of and preceding the Pilgrims. It is the only one of its kind in existence, so far as known, and was made especially for the European trip of the Newton Scouts. The arrows were regular Indian tipped with flint heads.

After the presentation at the palace by Scout John A. Ferris, of Troop 10, Waban, Colonel Granchard, the President's representative while he was on a vacation, was introduced to each member of the Newton Troop and shook hands.

Following the ceremony, the Troop marched from the Palace and were saluted by the two companies of the Palace Guard, who were lined up at Present Arms as the Scouts marched past.

PUBLIC APPEARANCES OF JAMBOREE TROOP

Public Cordially Invited to Attend

Norumbega Council's World Jamboree Troop of Boy Scouts will make its first public appearance at the Nobscot Reservation, South Sudbury, Mass., on Sunday afternoon, October 6th, at about 3:30 P. M. The route there is the Boston Post Road, turning left on route 126 at South Sudbury. This date is the occasion of Troops turning cabin keys over to the Council and of the dedication of the Gate Lodge, gift of Capt. and Mrs. Frank L. Nagle, of Newtonville, to the Council. All are invited.

The second appearance of the Troop, when it will repeat its Indian Dances and ceremonies, as at Nobscot, and the Motion Pictures of the Jamboree and trip, will be shown at the Court of Honor, on Friday, October 25th, 7:30 o'clock, at the Levi Warren Junior High School, West Newton. All are cordially invited to this event, also.

MODERN AGE AND RELIGION

During the month of September, Rev. M. A. Kapp, of the Newton Universalist Church will deliver a series of addresses on the general theme, "Has the Modern Age Destroyed Religion?" In the first discourse last Sunday the modern era was characterized as an Age of Uncertainty, in which religion, science, art and philosophy are desperately vainly trying to establish some firm basis from which to view life. The conflict of their findings, the crumbling of older points of view, the helplessness of the average man in the welter of contradictory belief and opinion were indicated by Rev. Mr. Kapp, who said that no generation had ever been so thoroughly and so promptly disillusioned as the present generation. The strong position of the modern cynics and sceptics was noted as extraordinarily appealing to youth today who have little use for a semi-poetic, semi-mystical code of ancient ethics supported mainly by tradition and institutional authority.

"There is no ready key which will unlock the fast, blind doors of this Age of Uncertainty," said Rev. Kapp. "No credulous acceptance of ancient sanctities will do. No miraculous personalities will suffice a generation weary of Messiahs and futile Saviours. No complacent platitudes, mellow and over-ripe with antiquity, can take the place of a genuine, convincing experience that life is worthwhile, sane, reasonable and full of creative potentialities. Our age does not yet have that conviction, and it is perfectly possible that it never will have."

Next Sunday, Mr. Kapp will discuss "Religion as an Attitude Toward Life," and attempt to grapple with the pessimism that presents so strong and so justifiable a case against much of current religion. Other titles in the series are: "Are There Unshakable Foundations for Any Religion," "The Task of the Liberal Church in the Twentieth Century."

The regular business meeting will be held at Elks Hall, Newton, Wednesday, September 18th, at 8 o'clock.

SCHOOL NEWS

Newton public schools was around 10,000. It is estimated that the enrollment this year will eventually be about 300 over last year.

At the new Cabot School 240 pupils have enrolled, a larger number than was expected. Because of this an additional class must be started at this school. An unexpectedly large number of pupils in one of the classes at the Williams School in Auburndale will necessitate the starting of an additional class there. Forty-five children have been admitted to the kindergarten at the Cabot School, while the kindergarten at the Rice School, Newton Centre, is overcrowded with more than 100 little youngsters. As a result of the congestion at the Rice School kindergarten it may be deemed necessary to start afternoon sessions at this kindergarten. The School Department will also investigate the birth records at City Hall to ascertain whether, or not, children under the prescribed age for admittance are being sent to kindergartens in this city.

John J. Norton, for several years a teacher at the Mason School and instructor at the Newton Centre Playground, resigned last month upon being appointed principal of a junior high school at Somerville, Mr. Norton's native city. His place has been filled by the appointment of Gordon M. Trim who is a graduate of a Maine Normal School and of Colby College.

Miss Margaretta Holbrook a former teacher at Burr School and who was absent last year because of poor health resigned a few days before the opening of the schools.

ANOTHER BICYCLE ACCIDENT

Irwin Price, 12, of 41 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill received a compound fracture of the left leg while riding his bicycle on Brookline avenue, Brookline on Saturday afternoon. The boy's bicycle skidded on the wet pavement and he fell in front of a truck owned by the New England Structural Company of Everett and operated by William Barnes of East Boston. The boy was taken to the Children's Hospital.

MISS LEATHERS RESIGNS
On September 1, Miss Anne L. Leathers resigned as Executive Secretary of the Newton Young Women's Christian Association, after four years of loyal devoted service. It was with great regret that the Board of Directors accepted Miss Leathers' resignation. These have been years of hard work, of the establishment of contacts with the community, and of co-operation of other social agencies as well as of the all-important upbuilding of our young Association itself. Miss Leathers has been the mainstay of all this, always cheerful, always dependable, always fundamentally sound. She has guided the young women and girls under her charge along safe paths and many a one has sought her out privately for her broad outlook and wise guidance. She leaves the Association stronger than she found it.

On September 9, Miss Leathers took up new duties in the department of English at the Newton High School, where her familiarity with the city and her knowledge of the problems of young people should greatly augment her value in that profession of teaching which was her original choice and to which she now returns. The best wishes of the Board of Directors and all members of the Newton Young Women's Association go with her as she begins her new work.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

CHANGE IN RULE MAY AID NEWTON

The modification of the so-called "three-year" rule (adopted by the Massachusetts Headmasters' Association last spring which caused considerable turore in the scholastic sport world) at an executive committee meeting last week may prove of some aid to Newton in making eligible one of the veteran football players heretofore regarded as out of the game. John Gill, substitute left tackle last year who was regarded as the outstanding candidate for that berth this season until passage of the rule is the player in question.

Additional interpretations of the rule modify the drastic ruling to some extent. For the first time it was announced that each year will contain two semesters (for the purpose of enforcing the rule) and that each boy is eligible to compete in athletics for six or eight semesters depending upon whether his entrance is from junior high school or from grammar school. Thus, if a boy misses one semester in his first three or four years of schooling and is required to attend another school year he is eligible to take part in athletics for one semester in that extra year the time limit not expiring until February. Thus a football athlete would be eligible for the entire season while a hockey, track or basketball player would be allowed to play until February.

Furthermore a boy must attend school at least 45 days to be counted as a student for that semester. Should a student for any reason drop out before completing 45 days school work in any one semester he can later return and complete his work, being athletically eligible for one more semester. This new interpretation removes the grave injustice done to those boys who were sick or injured for a semester and then required to take another year's schooling. The rule was originally designed to prevent athletes from repeating a school year merely to play football but it also originally operated in those unjust cases mentioned.

One of these cases, and there are probably a great many such in other schools throughout the State, is that of John Gill. Two or three years ago Gill was stricken with pneumonia and was out of school for a considerable length of time. The exact time of his absence from school is being investigated by the school authorities to determine whether or not he was in attendance 45 days in either the first or second semester. If his illness occurred prior to the vicinity of the middle of November and kept him out until after February first he probably did not attend school enough to be counted as a student the first semester under the amendment. Or if his illness kept him out from February first until sometime after the middle of April he would not be a student in the second semester.

As far as is known Gill is the only football athlete at Newton affected by the new interpretation as most of the other athletes are now attending preparatory schools in preference to returning to high school and being barred from athletics. Should Gill become eligible it will be a great aid to assistant coach Cousidine in building the Newton line for the coming season. With Fred Schipper having about clinched the first string centre berth, Edward Moore and Arthur Brown slated for the guard positions, Gordon Lindbergh the certain starter at right tackle the Newton line is shaping up quite strong with the exception of the left tackle position. If Gill, a 180-pounder over six feet in height, returns to the squad it should fill the hole creditably. If it happens that Gill is still ineligible the Newton coaches will have to choose one of the other candidates for the position. There are several of these but none to compare with Gill's type.

John McCarthy is almost a certain starter at right end with the left wing position still somewhat doubtful. Donald Bosworth has the edge at present but he is being closely pressed for the berth by Robert Nickerson and Francis Barba. In the scrimmages this week Nickerson has showed much promise and will undoubtedly see considerable service in the coming games. The backfield material is nothing to boast about. There is not a great deal of weight but considerable speed. The four that Coach Sullivan has been using on the first team most of the time are Harold Strombon, quarterback, Henry Furden and Warren Norton, halfbacks and Perry Elrod, fullback. Furden is the best line plunging back and Elrod the shiftest. Elrod will also do most of the passing and kicking. Strombon and Norton will get their chances to carry the ball but are better defensive and interfering backs than offensive carriers.

In preparation for the opening game with Malden next week Saturday the Newton mentor has arranged a scrimmage with the Wesley High school squad at Claffin Field next Tuesday afternoon. One or two light scrimmages will be held the next day or two between the first and second teams in order to smooth out the rough spots which the Wellesley scrimmage will uncover.

SPORT NOTES

Cole Making Fine Attempt
Romaine Cole, former Newton high athlete, is making a gallant attempt to clinch the right end position on the Tufts varsity eleven this fall. The left wing will probably be held down by the veteran, Arlanson, but the right wing berth is open through the graduation of last year's end.

UPPER FALLS WINS ANOTHER

Upper Falls assumed a two to one game lead in the championship series for city honors with the Town Club last Saturday by squeezing out a ninth inning 5 to 4 win on their home field. It was the fourth game of the series, one game resulting in a 4 to 4 tie. The next game in the series will be played tomorrow afternoon on the West Newton Common.

The Town Club presented a somewhat different line-up having lost some of their regular players because of the latter's return to various colleges. Edgar Warren, Yale freshman third baseman last spring and a former Newton high star, played second base and Spencer deMille, former Newton first baseman and captain now Wentworth Institute initial sacker and captain for next year, was at first base for the Town Club. Paul Smith, ex-Watertown high school pitcher, was on the mound for the losers and twirled good enough to win any ordinary game. His teammates failed to hit in the pinches with men on base. Forsyth, deMille and Smith were the batting stars of the game. DeMille got three out of three, two of them being doubles, and Smith and Forsyth each got two out of three, the latter's both for two bases and one of Smith's being a triple.

Smith pitched well but six hits while Leo Crowley, the winning pitcher was found for nine, with a total of fifteen bases. Upper Falls tucked the game away in the last of the ninth, breaking a 4 to 4 tie. With two out Smith ticketed DeGeorge. Crowley hit a Texas leaguer, sending his teammate to third, where he scored on Kerrivan's single.

Smith passed five and fanned seven while Crowley issued the same number of passes and fanned but three.

SPORT NOTES

Hemcon Enters Penn
Melbourne Hemcon, former Newton high and Cushing Academy athlete, has entered the University of Pennsylvania where he should be a welcome addition to the athletic teams. He played on the Newton high eleven a few years ago and since then was on the Cushing football, basketball, and baseball teams, being captain of the latter.

McCullough End on Team A
Carleton McCullough, former Newton high athlete, is playing an end position on the Boston University Team A which opens its schedule next week Saturday at West Point.

Gilligans Both Out
Both the Gilligans, Tom and Francis, are out of the Harvard practice sessions because of injury and sickness. Francis suffered a leg injury early in the week while Tom has been a victim of indigestion. It is probable that both will be back in uniform on Monday. The Gilligan brothers are the two heaviest backs on the Crimson squad. Francis tops the list at 185 while Tom is but three pounds lighter.

Gatchell Breaks Collarbone
Creighton Gatchell, star centre on the Newton eleven two years ago, suffered a broken collarbone during Monday's practice session of the Bowdoin varsity squad.

It was a clean break and is expected to heal rapidly with the possibility that he may recover in time to take part in the two objective games of the season. It had been generally conceded that Gatchell would play the pivot position for the Polar Bears this fall. His playing last year as a freshman attracted State-wide attention. The graduation of Elnslow Howland of Abundance, centre on last year's eleven, gave Gatchell the opportunity to clinch a vacancy. In Tuesday's practice Carleton of East Bridgeport, who took Gatchell's place, also suffered a shoulder injury which will keep him out for at least two weeks although it is not as serious as that of the former Newton star's.

Locals in Old Colony Tourney

Several local tennis players advanced in the first rounds of the Old Colony league tennis tournament played last week-end. Harry Sylvester, Abbott Gotshall and Francis Broughton of the championship Burr Association team won their first round matches as did George Mandell and Frank Seamans of the Waban Neighborhood club. In the second round matches Mandell defeated Seamans. Broughton also advanced to the third round by winning from McCutcheon. In doubles Mandell and Seamans have won their first and second round matches while Broughton and Gotshall have reached the second round. Playing will be continued tomorrow.

Rising Assists at Dartmouth

Phil Rising of Newton Centre, a former Newton high athlete, has been appointed an assistant freshman football coach at Dartmouth. Rising was a substitute end on the Dartmouth varsity squad the past two seasons and also a member of the track squad.

Cronin Back with Braves

Bill Cronin of West Newton, who spent the summer with the Baltimore Orioles of the International Baseball league, is now back with the Boston Braves. The Orioles having finished their season and not being in a post-season series have sent most of their players back to the major league teams that have strings on the players. Cronin has taken part in several of the Braves recent games on their trip to the west.

Harrington Enters B. U.

Daniel Harrington of Newtonville, star athlete at Newton high the past few years in football and hockey, has entered Boston University. He is out for the freshman football team which is practicing at Nickerson Field, Riverside. He should prove a valuable addition to the Pioneer teams as he was captain and all-scholastic goal-tender on the Newton High hockey team last winter and a star tackle on the eleven.

Andres Back—Clark Out

Harold Andres has returned to the Dartmouth varsity line-up after being out several days with a minor injury. Len Clark, another ex-Newton player, who seems certain to be a starter at one of the halfback berths, is relegated to the sidelines with a slight injury. He is expected back within a few days. Henry Johnson of Waban, the third Newton youth on the Dartmouth varsity, has been showing up well in the full back position where he is expected to see considerable service this fall.

Bennett Gets Suit

Candidates for the Exeter Academy football team were issued suits and other equipment on Wednesday of this week. Among those on hand was Bob Bennett, former Newton high athlete and a substitute back at Exeter last year. It is expected that Frank Spain, former Newton star, will report soon.

SPORT NOTES

Andres Reports at Worcester

Phil Andres, ex-Newton high athlete oarred from further scholastic competition by the three-year rule, has entered Worcester Academy. He reported for football practice on Wednesday when candidates were called out. He is trying for a fullback position. Among those on the squad is Haley a star halfback at Winthrop High last fall.

Brownell a Visitor

One of the most interested spectators at Claffin Field during the high school football team practice Wednesday afternoon was Clifford Brownell. Mr. Brownell was director of physical education in the Newton Schools three years ago. He was greatly pleased with the development of Claffin Field to its present state and expressed the hope that a new stadium would shortly be erected on the proposed site.

Chamberlain at B. U.

Arthur Chamberlain, Newton high centre last fall, was among the candidates reporting for the Boston University freshman eleven at Nickerson field yesterday. With Dan Harrington and Chamberlain the orange and black should be well represented on the Pioneer teams the next few years.

FIRE RECORD

Box 281 was pulled at 2.45 Monday afternoon for a fire in the dump off North street, Newtonville.

Engine 9 at Chestnut Hill was called by still alarm on Tuesday night at 10 to extinguish a fire on the roof of the apartment building at 219 Commonwealth avenue.

BOY FALLS OFF TREE

Robert Gibson, 12, of 42 Richardson street, Newton fell from a tree on Walnut park, Newton on Tuesday afternoon and was knocked unconscious. The police were notified and he was taken to the Newton Hospital where it was found he had not been seriously injured.

NEWTONVILLE MINISTER ANSWERS MODERN PESSIMISTS

John Haynes Holmes, prominent leader of the Community Church in New York City, predicts that the church will pass away, that preaching will disappear, that worship will become a matter of scientific procedure, that religion in the future will be so different that people of this age would not be able to recognize it as religion. If the forms and practices of religion are so variable, it is natural for people to question whether there is anything stable, anything dead certain about religion.

The Rev. M. A. Kapp, minister of the Newtonville Universalist Church, in a series of Sunday morning sermons during September, will consider whether such predictions as those of John Haynes Holmes are an indication that "The Modern Age Has Destroyed Religion".

In an address last week, Mr. Kapp stated that modern religion has wrenched itself loose from creeds, dogmas and organized authorities. No longer do people feel the necessity of imitating others in accepting codified morals, ethics and aesthetics. No longer do they feel that religion is a matter of a Book or a Divine Man, or a Holy Church. Rather it is a personal experience in which the personality reaches out after beauty and excellence. It is an attitude toward Life which seeks to find the highest and best in every moment, in every era, in every aeon of existence. And the supreme obligation of each generation is to "Be Itself", to live by its own deepest experience of what is worthwhile and significant.

This Sunday, in an address titled "Are There Unshakable Foundations for ANY Religion?" Mr. Kapp will throw religion into the test-tube to see what it looks like when all externalities, all decorations, all magic props are sheared away.

CITY AFFAIRS

Street Commissioner Stuart gives the welcome information that the proposed new, modern street lights at Newton Corner and along Washington street will soon be installed. Work on this improvement is expected to be underway by the Edison Company within a few weeks.

The Claims and Rules Committee held a meeting on Wednesday night and conducted hearings on several petitions. Attorney James P. Gallagher, appearing for Mary E. O'Driscoll, asked that his client be granted permission to change a large single dwelling at 1281 Walnut street, Newton Highlands into a double dwelling.

Jeremiah P. Driscoll of Boston asked for a waiver of setback on a lot owned by him at 52 Walter street, corner of Parker street, Newton Centre. Mr. Driscoll asked that the setback on Walter street be 11 feet instead of 25 feet as specified by the Zoning Ordinance. It is a small corner lot, 45 feet wide, and according to Mr. Driscoll cannot be used unless a setback is granted. A number of property owners in the vicinity objected to the waiver being granted. Among them were John Gunnarson, 176 Parker street, Richard Capstick, 164 Parker street, M. F. Cook, 44 Walter street and Charles Mahoney of 36 Walter street objected. They contended that to grant the waiver would depreciate the values of nearby properties and will be unfair to the owners of these properties. Mr. Driscoll expressed a willingness to sell the lot at a reasonable price and Mr. Gunnarson asked that an extension of 30 days be granted on this matter to allow a consultation on the purchase of the lot.

Frank A. Page of Charlemon district, Newton Highlands, asked for a permit to erect a building at 127 Charlemon street which would be a combined dwelling and a henhouse to quarter 2000 hens. He stated that the lot on which he wishes to erect this structure contains 15,000 square feet, is 50 feet wide and 300 feet deep. An owner of an abutting lot protested against the erection of an egg factory of this size so near to his property. Mr. Page was informed by Chairman Grebenstein of the Committee that the location asked for is in a private residence zone, where, according to the intent of the Zoning Ordinance business enterprises are not allowed to be established.

Petitions were received from the New England Creamery Products Company for another addition to the wagon shed at 129 Farwell street, Newtonville, and from James J. Lyons for a waiver of the setback line on a lot of land owned by him at West Boulevard road, Newton Centre from 25 feet to 7 1/2 feet. This lot is at the corner of Ward street.

J. D. McMullin had petitioned the aldermen for a renewal of a permit to conduct an automobile repair shop at 44 Rogers street, Newton Highlands. This location adjoins the bathing beach at Crystal Lake recently acquired by the city.

Petitions have been received from the Middlesex & Boston and Edison companies asking that the former corporation be allowed to transfer ownership of poles to the latter. These poles are located on Crafts, Waltham, Walnut and Woodward streets. They were used by the M & B to carry the wires used in the operation of the electric cars now discontinued.

Thomas A. Joyce has petitioned the aldermen to grant him a permit to use a garage at 23 Falmouth road, West Newton for three cars. This garage was erected on a permit granted to Bessie Gould for a 2-car garage, and a 3-car structure was built.

At the next meeting of the aldermen hearings will be assigned on the petitions of James Holian for a gasoline station at 11 Park street, Newton; Brook street garage for increased gasoline storage at 8-14 Brook street; Silver Lake Garage for increased gasoline storage and an additional pump, at 444-448 Watertown street.

POLICE NEWS

Burton Gardener of Worcester street, Watertown and Clifton White of Massachusetts avenue, Boston were each fined $25 in the Newton court on Tuesday for speeding. Motorcycle Officer O'Donnell testified that the pair had staged an automobile race along Boylston street from Newton Highlands to the Wellesley line, traveling at times 60 miles an hour.

Adrian Leslie of Clifton road, Wellesley was fined $15 in the Newton court on Tuesday for speeding. Patrolman Hammill had caught Leslie speeding and obtained a warrant for his arrest but failed to apprehend Leslie in two trips after him. Monday Hammill observed Leslie driving through West Newton and at once served the warrant. Other "speeders" fined in court on Tuesday included—George Upton, Baker street, Waltham, $10; Frederic Connors, Jr., Laurel street, Brighton, $10; Wendell Steele, River street, Weston, $5.

Serg. Meehan and a squad of police raided the home of Vito Florento at 5 Dudley road, Thompsonville on Monday night and seized 4 1/2 gallons of wine. According to the police in the cellar of Vito's house was a small bar. The raid followed sales of liquor made to Patrolmen Carley and McCormick by Florento and his wife, Maria Florento. In the Newton court on Tuesday Florento was fined $50 for keeping and exposing liquor for sale. He was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail for making an illegal sale. His wife was fined $50 for making an illegal sale of liquor.

In the Newton court on Monday many autoists were fined for violating laws and ordinances regulating automobile traffic. For speeding Charles Andrews of Saugus and George Carver of Uxbridge each was assessed $25; fines of $10 were imposed on Milton Fine, Priscilla road, Chestnut Hill; Jack Klaff, Brookline; Harold Levy, Framingham; Paul Corum, Natick; Donato Leone, Linwood avenue, Newtonville; Frank Coni, Carter street, Needham. E. Clifford Potter of 662 Centre street, Newton Centre was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday for violating a traffic ordinance. He appealed. He was summoned into court last week by Motorcycle Officer Goddard for driving to the left of a traffic signal. When Mr. Potter appeared in court on September 10 in accordance with the summons, Judge Weston was on the bench, and because he knew Potter, chose to let the case and continued it for a week to allow another judge to try it. Mr. Potter, having come to court as ordered, wanted his case tried and stated that he would not come again. Whereupon, Judge Weston stated that should the defendant fail to appear, a bench warrant for Potter's arrest would be issued. Last Tuesday case, he tried to his word. Mr. Potter did not come court, and a warrant was issued. Wednesday morning while Officer Goddard was seeking Potter, the latter was informed by another policeman that he was wanted at court, so he went there, and was tried by Judge Frost of Brighton who was presiding.

Wednesday night patrolman McCormick found a touring car opposite 1290 Washington street, Newton Centre, the car had been stolen in Boston the preceding day.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Not only New England, but the whole earth seems to have been troubled with a long drought this past summer. So scarce has water become in Prussia that the authorities of Aix-La-Chapelle have officially sealed every bath-tub in that big city to prevent any of the inhabitants using the bath-tubs. What will the Germans in that burg do? Use gasoline and get dry-cleaned?

In the Boston papers last week were advertisements inserted by one of the leading chain grocery companies of this section. This advertisement was headed "BACK TO SCHOOL SALE" and stated, "Growing youngsters need fine foods to build sturdy young bodies." The articles featured in this advertisement included "Lux" and Ammonia. Youngsters who can thrive by eating "Lux" and drinking ammonia must have extraordinary digestive systems. One thing is certain, kids who could use such articles for food ought to be clean internally.

The young ladies who went to considerable trouble the past summer to acquire sun-tanned backs would have been spared this bother had they been of the mulatto type.

Former Governor Alvan T. Fuller says some things that meet with the approval of most folks, and then again he advances some views that seem strange coming from a man of his ability and experience. Mr. Fuller sides with residents of Boston, Chelsea and Revere who protest against the extra high rates which must be paid by automobile owners of these three cities for compulsory liability insurance. Mr. Fuller inquires as to the failure of State authorities to follow up the disclosures made last year concerning crooked lawyers who connived in obtaining money for fake claims of injuries alleged to have been received in automobile accidents. Honest persons in Massachusetts, especially honest persons who must pay appreciable premiums for compulsory liability insurance, will agree with Mr. Fuller that dishonest claimants and shyster lawyers who obtained liability insurance awards wrongly should be prosecuted.

Another suggestion made by Mr. Fuller regarding differential rates in compulsory liability insurance is—that persons who have been in automobile accidents ought to pay higher rates than those who have not. Many autoists who have been in accidents have been entirely blameless. Would Mr. Fuller have such owners of automobiles penalized for the fault of others? An autoist is driving carefully along a street. A child suddenly darts in front of the car and is hit. The driver of the automobile is not to blame, but, according to Mr. Fuller's suggestion, he would be penalized by being compelled to pay higher insurance rates.

Two cars are in collision. The driver who is to blame has witnesses who may not tell the truth. The driver who is not to blame has no witnesses. There have been cases when such a circumstance prevailed where the innocent party was adjudged guilty. Mr. Fuller's suggestion regarding insurance rates would not tend to improve such miscarriages of justice. Automobile drivers who have been convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor, who have been convicted of reckless driving, who have been convicted more than once for "speeding," who have been convicted for driving with defective brakes on their cars, such autoists could justly be charged higher insurance rates.

The many fatal airplane accidents which have occurred recently will not tend to make this mode of travel gain rapidly in popularity despite all the waddle which is being disseminated about travel by air going to replace travel by vehicles which travel on rails, roads and water. When travel by air becomes safe, when airplanes will be constructed that can be floated gently to earth in case of mechanical defects developing, when some means of propulsion other than gasoline fuel motors will be invented, then travel by airplanes will become popular with a large percentage of humans. Until such safeguards make air travel less hazardous the great majority of people will cling to the earth and the sea.

Whether organized propaganda is responsible, or whether the press does it of its own volition, the featuring of Lindbergh continues. Many millions of Americans, and probably Mr. Lindbergh himself, are fed up on the incessant publicity about the young man who had the courage, the skill and the good luck to be the first to fly from the United States to Europe, although not the first to fly across the Atlantic.

Should not airplanes be compelled to carry compulsory liability and property damage insurance? A number of pedestrians and autoists have already been killed by falling airplanes which also have wrought ruin to buildings that they landed on. If airplanes become nearly so numerous as predicted, more accidents will occur.

The other afternoon on Lincoln street, Newton Highlands we heard someone tooting an automobile horn. The horn was on a snappy convertible coupe and was being tooted by a lady who was operating the coupe. The lady decried to park her coupe on that part of Lincoln street where cars must be parked parallel to the curb. In the space where the lady wished to park was a dog; a mongrel dog, part spaniel and part some other breed, or breeds. This dog was busily engaged in scratching a flea bite on his port side, in the vicinity of his hip. He paid no attention to the tooting of the horn. Finally, when he concluded scratching, he arose and the lady started to move her car into the vacant parking space. But the dog squatted down again and started scratching vigorously on his right hip; the lady appeared peeved and commenced to toot the horn again, and as the dog seemed set for a long scratching performance we did not re-

Citizens of the United States who are law-abiding and who desire to legally drink alcoholic liquors have entered a nearby saloon. As the Newton equipage was driven up to the door of the Albany House the colored porter hastened out to greet the guests who arrived in style. Opening the door of the booby he discovered no occupants in the vehicle and conveyed this information to the amazed "Pat" who would not be convinced until he had dismounted from the box and gazed inside his conveyance. Although he made a tour of all the saloons in Brighton that night searching for the "smart" young wits who had played the trick on him, he did not find them as those worthless were hidden in a back room at Reddy's. But within a few days he encountered some of them and collected his fare.

One winter's night about 35 years ago four Newton young men decided to go to Brighton. No train was due to come for a couple of hours so the quartet engaged Pat Maloney to drive them down in his booby. For the benefit of the younger generation, it might be well to explain that a booby was a coupe body on runners. Mr. Maloney and the other men who operated the hacks and carriages at the Newton railroad station used boobies in the winters when snow covered the streets.

The quartet of thirsty individuals who engaged Mr. Maloney instructed him to drive to the Albany House at North Brighton. This old hostelry conducted to provide lodgings, food and drink for the farmers and drovers who did business at the cattle yards in Brighton was the leading place of its type in that section. It boasted of a colored porter who met arriving guests.

The booby from Newton was driven down Tremont street, up Washington street and onto Market street at Brighton Centre. At this point a humorous idea occurred to one of the four young men who were passengers in it. He communicated the idea to his com-

PRIZE OF THE WEEK CONTESTS

There will be three prizes given away every seven days; one for girls, one for boys and one to the individual who has shown the best effort in the opinion of the judges. The age limit is 16 years, but children may get all the help they want from parents, older brothers and sisters and friends. If you want the prizes, for which no real work is to be done, just write out the answers to the questionnaire printed under the heading "Prize-Of-The-Week Contest," fill out the coupon and mail both to the Newton Graphic.

Remember that there is no work to do, no subscriptions to get, no money to pay. It is just fun to try to answer the questions. If there is any doubt whether it is fun or not just try one test and after that you'll try them all. The names and addresses of the three winners will be published every week. Correct answers also will be printed when the winners are announced. The rules of the contest are printed with the questions.

Of course every contestant can't win a prize, but if you don't win this week you'll have the fun of trying anyway and can make another effort next week and every week thereafter. If you win a prize this week that won't prevent you from trying to win again next week. The only persons who are barred from taking part are employees of the Graphic and their relatives.

Only a few minutes are required to answer the five groups of questions. There is a splendid educational value in the questions and entertainment as well and men and women would do well to try the questions themselves even though they are not eligible for the prizes. The gifts—real valuable ones—are for the youngsters only.

Be sure to get a copy of the Graphic each week so as to take part in this popular contest of fun.

RIGHT PAYS

The truth of the statement, "What is Right Will Pay," has been realized by big business in the United States. The huge mergers of business already of huge proportions are possible only insofar as they have the confidence of the public, only insofar as they have built their business on the right principles. Answering a question about regulation of trusts, whether it was possible and what was being done in that regard, an important man recently said, "It isn't necessary to regulate these trusts, because if they don't conduct their business on the highest ethical basis, they cannot possibly succeed." That is a statement from a man who is engaged in promoting big business today, a man whose duty it is to study business methods and their results.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

An example of efficiency may be observed in the construction of the new bridge over the Charles River at Newton Lower Falls. The Fred T. Ley Company which is doing this work is one of the largest contracting firms in this country. It has a corps of expert workmen and engineers. The latter estimate a schedule for each phase of a job which informs the workmen just when they ought to have this part of the work completed. On the Lower Falls job the workmen are away ahead of the schedule time allotted them.

Unless some parasite is discovered which will make quick work of exterminating the corn-borer pest, folks in this broad land won't enjoy sweet corn, or any other kind of corn many more years. The corn-borers have easily resisted all efforts made in the fight against them so far. Many local amateur gardeners have not attempted to raise corn this year because of this pest.

The driver of a big bus, one of the type which whizzes past you on state roads, was in a neighboring court lately charged with speeding at a rate of between 45 and 50 miles an hour. He asserted the bus he drives cannot go faster than 30 miles an hour. This fellow ought to be given an honorary membership in the Ananias Club.

After all the free advertising it has received in the Boston papers should Mr. O'Neill's psychological and sexological drama be permitted to be played in that city the Hollis Street Theatre would be ridiculously small in which to crowd all who would want to witness this exposition of a woman's heart throbs. The Arena or the Boston Garden might be hired for the production of Eugene's master piece. In these big show places those of the audiences who did not care to go out during the 90 minutes intermission for supper, or dinner, might have peanuts and popcorn, or hot dogs and coffee served. And a few boxing or wrestling bouts might be pulled off to kill the monotony during the long wait.

As a result of complaints received from autoists whose cars have been hemmed in at the parking space on Washington street, Newton Corner, the practice of permitting two and three rows of cars to be parked along this space during evening hours will be stopped. Persons who have parked cars, in accordance with traffic regulations next to the curb, in the early evening hours, have been unable to move such cars for a couple of hours because other autoists have parked cars up against the car parked next to the curb and then gone to the theatre. It is contemplated painting a lane outside the parking space on the south side of Washington street between Channing and Thornton streets and this lane a second row of automobiles will be allowed to park in parking spaces or be clearly defined by painted marking lines. The lane will be prohibited for parking, thus giving space for the cars parked next to the curb to be backed out.

There is continued criticism against the automatic operation of the traffic signals in the tower at Nonantum Square. The automatic operation unnecessarily slows up traffic and affords scant protection to pedestrians. When the traffic officer is operating the signals motor vehicles are allowed to proceed without delay and other vehicles or pedestrians are not about to proceed against them. But, with the automatic operation of the signals, automobiles are compelled to be halted for 35 seconds even though no traffic is crossing in the other line, or motor cars are crossing the square. The signals giving pedestrians the right of way do not allow old folks sufficient time to cross the square and even younger people who start to cross when they see the yellow and red lights find themselves at a short distance out on the street when the lights change to green, and the pedestrians thus caught must dodge cars until they reach the opposite sidewalk.

SOUND ADVICE

The following extract from a recent speech of Mr. Edwin A. Bemis of Colorado to a group of newspapermen is worthy of the attention of both editors and readers:—

President Hoover, in his recent "keynote" address, sounded a warning relative to law observance. To me that is the most pertinent topic before the nation, and it is obvious that the newspapers of the United States have it entirely within their power to compel law observance, or by innuendoes or by news colorings can just as effectively become parties to the breaking-down of the legal protective system. As a major activity of the National Association of State Press Field Managers, I would urge that we make it our aim, and our duty to keep our editors constantly conscious of the necessity of crusading for law observance. Let every newspaper from the smallest country weekly to the largest city daily use its influence not only for law enforcement but also for speedier law revision in order to meet the rapidly changing conditions. The line of demarcation between crime and personal privilege is not definite, but the hardened criminals and murderers in many cases began by clinging to the narrow margin of personal privilege. Law observance is law protection. The individual who disobeys law destroys his own protection, and it is arriving at a place where men are forced to think in terms of "personal protection" rather than "personal privilege."

EASTERN GAS AND FUEL ASSOCIATES

One of the recent sensations of the Boston Stock Market and New York Curb has been Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates common stock. From a low price of 32 on the initial day of trading, August 15, the stock has advanced to above 53.

Kidder, Peabody & Co., who have been identified as bankers with Massachusetts Gas Companies since inception of the enterprise in 1902, now direct the attention of investors to Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates 6% cumulative preferred stock, selling around 93. They point out that if all the Massachusetts Gas preferred and common shares are exchanged for shares of Eastern Gas & Fuel, the latter will have outstanding: 250,000 shares 4 1/2% cumulative prior preference; 414,167 6% cumulative preferred; 1,558,344 common.

Commenting on the outlook for Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates, the bankers say: "The controlled companies, as well as the communities served, will benefit in many ways through association with The Koppers Company, and there is every reason to expect a steady growth in operations and earnings as a result of the consolidation."

REAL ESTATE

The office of George A. Dill reports the transfer of the property of Mary E. Bruner, wife of Maylett Bruner at 206 Waverley avenue in the Farlow Hill section of Newton to Prof. Howard M. LeSourd and wife of the Theological School of Boston University.

This is a large white colonial of twelve rooms and two baths situated on a slightly lot containing 14,500 sq. ft. of land in the older residential section of Newton. The property is surrounded by ample lawns and abundant shrubbery. Prof. LeSourd and family plan to occupy the premises next year. In the meantime Mr. Dill's office has leased the property for the new owner to Mr. Raymond Stanley of Newton and Gloucester who will occupy the premises pending the construction of his new home at Chestnut Hill. Final papers in the transfer were recorded this week.

Another sale negotiated by the office of George A. Dill gives title of the new English brick house with 18,000 sq. ft. of land at 60 White Oak road, Waban to Mary F. Avery of 874 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. The Grantor was Ralph N. Crowell of Auburndale the owner and builder.

The property contains eight rooms and three baths with a large finished basement playroom. The location is in a secluded section of Waban surrounded by towering oaks and evergreens. There is a two-car heated garage attached to the house. The property is valued at $25,000.

James T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for William Watt to Judge W. Lloyd Allen the single colonial residence located at 26 Mason road in the Newton Centre district. With the house, which is completely modern and has nine rooms and three baths, there is a two-car garage and 9,000 sq. ft. of land, and the property is valued at $25,000. Together with the house Burns & Sons have also sold the entire household furnishings and effects contained therein, which are valued at $4,000.

In the Newton district they have sold the practically new old English brick home located 693 Centre street, corner Converse avenue. This house, which contains nine rooms and four baths, is beautifully situated on a corner lot of 10,200 sq. ft., and together with a two-car garage is valued at $36,500. Dr. Ernest McKenna purchases for a home. George W. Duffield was the grantor.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

For the first half of next week beginning Sunday evening at 7.45 the Paramount Theatre will offer Richard Barthelmess in "Drag." This story presents this popular star in a dramatic narrative concerning a young newspaper man who goes to a small town to edit the local weekly, while there he falls in love with a girl and after marrying her finds himself supporting a whole family of parasites. He composes a musical show called "The Love Prince" for the local woman's guild, his success encourages him to go to New York, sell his play and find that happiness which so eluded him in the small town. In the cast are Lila Lee, Alice Day, Tom Dugan and others. "Drag" is a 100% talking picture.

The companion picture for the first half will be "China Bound" a picture in which the two boys Karl Dane and Geo. K. Arthur make "life just one laugh after another."

For the last half of the week, William Powell (the screen's best male speaker) and Ruth Chatterton will be seen in "Charming Sinners." Clive Brook and Mary Nolan are also in the cast. Ruth Chatterton is in the role of the offending wife, Clive Brook as the philandering husband, William Powell as the returned sweetheart, and Mary Nolan plays "The Other Woman." This is a very entertaining picture and one which will surely be enjoyed.

Another very good picture will be seen on the same program, Lon Chaney in the role of a Railroad Engineer, with his engine and the traditions of the road his religion.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

I deeply sympathize with those people who have become indignant at the criticism of women teachers by an individual who in this article at least shall be nameless. Many good people have been moved to make oral or written replies because of their belief that this man's assertions were unwarranted and unfair. I do hope that some of them will read this effusion of mine and accept it as a guide in the future.

In the first place, to achieve all the advertising which the speaker in question obtained free of cost is a triumph. Firms and institutions are paying high salaries to "public relations men" and "contact men" and others who are nothing more than the old-fashioned "press agent" with a new name. The latter are expected to dress-up in an attractive form what is merely advertising matter and employ ingenuity in inducing the newspapers to print it. If they can make it look enough like news to have it printed they have earned their salaries and possibly a promotion. The game is to get publicity for nothing when it should be paid for at regular advertising rates. It's an old device—old as the hills but still full of vigor.

I once heard a veteran newspaperman describe some of the tricks of P. T. Barnum, the world's greatest showman and publicity fakir. Barnum arrived in Boston and put up at the Hotel Vendome. From there he telephoned the newspaper offices that he was in town. Each paper sent a man to the hotel. When the reporter who was first to arrive entered the hotel office Barnum was talking to the clerk. The young reporter marched up to the desk and inquired for Mr. P. T. Barnum. "I'm Mr. Barnum," said the circus wizard, "who are you?"

"I'm a newspaper reporter," came the reply.

"Well, well," said Barnum, "how did you know I was in Boston?" Then turning to the hotel clerk he remarked, "Isn't it wonderful how the newspapers keep track of everything that is going on?"

In telling me the story the veteran reporter remarked, "I would have liked to have shown the old rascal up but I thought I'd better not." Now then—about our "educator" who assailed women teachers in his speech. I don't know what his idea is but let me call your attention to these facts and you can figure it out for yourselves.

The speech was made on the eve of the reopening of schools. No better or more timely hour for that kind of wisecracking.

The speech was made in a place which is constantly looking for publicity and the head of which is not adverse to all the free space he can obtain in newspapers.

The speech was made on Sunday afternoon. This gave the reporters plenty of time to get it to their papers and where it was more or less welcome because the Monday morning paper has more "room" than that of any other day in the week.

Let me add that it is my opinion that women teachers need no defenders or apologists, but certain individuals need all the free advertising they can get. Without it they are "lost."

A lot of people like to ask questions. I wonder if they do it for the fun of it or if they really are seriously seeking information. I know of a man who never meets a friend but he puts him through a sort of civil service test. All the most intimate matters are brought up and the inquisitive one makes the most of every minute. Possibly he can't help it, but at any rate he has friends running the other way when they catch a glimpse of him.

Now there are officials who believe that the conduct of their business can be best served by insisting that every employee fill out a questionnaire. There is, of course, a sound reason for all this, but sometimes the soundness exists only in the minds of the theorists who framed the questions.

I feel that Newton people will be interested in the questionnaire sent out by the special commission created by this year's Legislature for the purpose of studying salaries of county employees. The classification is quite broad so that all types of workers are included.

It is interesting to note how searching these questions can be made. Without quoting the entire questionnaire let me put down a few of those that struck me—well, I'd rather not say how they struck me, but I would like to see what impression they may have on you.

Under the caption, "Description of duties" we find this: "What work do you do? Describe each kind of work you do in a separate paragraph. List your regular duties first in the order of importance. Give your special or occasional duties last. Make your description as detailed as possible so as to give a clear picture of what your position is. In the column at the left indicate your best estimate of the distribution of your time among the various tasks either in percentage of total time, or by hours."

It strikes me that the above should pretty nearly cover everything, but that, it seems, is only one of thirty-one questions.

Here are some of the others. "Rate of pay, per hour, per day, per month, per year."

"Any additional allowances for room, quarters, house, fuel, light, heat, 3 meals, 2 meals or 1 meal?"

"Annual value of allowances?"

"Regular working hours?"

"Minutes for lunch?"

"Regular hours on Saturday?"

"Hours of overtime last year? During what months?"

"Duration of employment. Year round, seasonal, now and then, temporary?"

"If seasonal, how many months? If broken, how many days a year do you work ordinarily?"

"If work is temporary how many days from the start is it expected to last?"

"Education. School grade, high school, college, other, total years, with description of any special certificates, degrees, etc."

The above is by no means the complete questionnaire, so don't think for a moment that the person who fills out the blank is allowed to escape with any such number of answers as that. Indeed, no. This questionnaire is the most extensive I have ever seen. I suppose it all means something, but I must say that I cannot understand what it is intended to accomplish.

If there is anything that seems incurable it is bad manners. Children with stern parents may be forcibly convinced by parental control of the error of their ways, but adults who are "set" are practically impossible. I don't contend that all rough-necks are poor and belong solely to the working class any more than I say that all people of means are ladies and gentlemen. You will find good manners in the most unexpected places and when you do you are taken completely by surprise. I suppose the answer is that you see fewer well-mannered people than you do rude and rough individuals.

What most irritates me in the daily exhibition of impoliteness to which we are treated is that given by motemen. Let some bewildered woman attempt to board the front end of a trolley car when she is expected to enter the rear door and the motorman will froth at the mouth. "Rear door," he will yell, as if he had been attacked by assassins and was screaming for help. It is enough to frighten the poor woman into hysterics. Yet you see that practically every day.

I blame the system that has different rules for different lines. If you are riding between Harvard Square and Watertown you must use the front door. If on an Allston-Dudley street car you do the same. Here in Newton a passenger enters the rear door. Now how is anybody to know? Supposing someone who lives on the Watertown-Harvard Square line finds himself or herself in Brighton and makes for the front door of a Newton-Watertown car. Is that any reason that the motorman should choke with anger and bawl his lungs out with "Rear door—what's the matter with yer? Rear door," I said.

When we do see good manners—and we do occasionally on the trolley and elsewhere—let us give thanks that the spirit of civility is not extinct.

Several readers have spoken to me in approval of the reference in this column to the need of more policemen to patrol the streets of Newton. I have tried to make it clear that I am not criticizing the officers for failure to perform their duties. The fault is due partly to the wide area which they are assigned to cover. As if it were not ridiculous to expect a man to cover fully a square mile, that same man is directed to let his route patrolling slide and station himself at a fixed point in order to catch automobiles who commit some slight infraction of the city ordinances.

As to protection afforded property owners there is this to be said. The property owner has probably labored or hired workers to keep his lawn in good shape, trim the fruit trees or cultivate the garden. In consequence he takes a great deal of pride in the results. Naturally he gets pretty sore when children, and sometimes grown-ups walk boldly into that lawn, orchard or garden and destroy in a fifty what it has taken weeks or months to bring about. The property owner feels that he should have police protection and is aggrieved when boys hunt horse-chestnuts all over his lawn and pay not the slightest attention when the women folks order them off. The point of view of the property owner is easily understood.

Now then for the other side. The policeman is inclined to feel that as a guardian of peace he possesses some of the qualities of Sherlock Holmes, Jack Dempsey, the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court and the State Registrar of Motor Vehicles. He is glad of an opportunity to prove any of these qualifications in an important problem. "Chasing kids" is not dignified and the policeman who does it is more or less laughed at.

My point is that police patrolmen cannot expect to have "big stuff" in the way of cases always on their hands. If they cover their routes and attend to all matters demanding their attention they will have earned their money. The property owner who expects more of them is asking too much. When the two reach a mutual understanding things will be handled to the satisfaction of everyone.

I wonder if I am indulging myself with one of my favorite hobbies? And that is the Bullfinch front of the State House. I refer particularly to the interior. All who have visited it will now find good reason for doing so again and those who have never been there should lose no time in making a tour of inspection.

The beautiful new crystal chandeliers installed last week in the Executive suite are worth a long journey. They carry one back to the old-fashioned fixtures for lamps that had dwindled and dangle-dangle pieces of glass. Those now placed in the Executive suite are magnificent, especially the one in the Governor's private office. They are no ordinary fixtures, but made on the other side by expert glass-blowers. The whole idea is to do away with the fixtures installed thirty years ago and restore as near as can be done such as harmonize with the Bullfinch architecture.

I cannot urge too strongly a visit to the State House to see these wonderful new fixtures. And don't stop there. Be sure and take in the Senate reception room which is one of the finest examples of the simple and dignified architecture of the last part of the eighteenth century that one can find.

I know a popular actress who never misses a visit to the reception room in the Senate and who likes to view the attractive furnishings and marvel over its charm and beauty. If people come miles and miles across the country to do this it should seem to me to be worth the attention of residents of Greater Boston.

STARTS FIRE WITH KEROSENE

Mrs. Christopher Crowell of Colbert road, West Newton was badly burned about the arms and hands Monday morning at 10 o'clock when she used kerosene to start a fire in the kitchen range. A still alarm brought Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 1 and the firemen extinguished flames which had spread to the curtains.

JAMBOREE TRIP

Story of the Jamboree

The whole story of that wonderful Jamboree would take volumes and would be far beyond the power of words to describe. There were nearly 50,000 Scouts and leaders from about 50 countries of the world, all living under canvas for a period of two weeks. There was pageantry, demonstrations in Scout and camp craft—but most of all there was the fraternization among the boys from all over the world. The fact that they could not speak one another's language proved no barrier, for the sign language and a "make-up" lingo sufficed. They traded or swapped everything imaginable. Directly across the street from the American Camp were the Danes; the third or fourth day a little Danish Scout came over to the American Camp—one among hundreds and when he returned to his own camp, all he wore was his undershirt, but he had traded well, for he carried back an armful of stuff. The old Yankee spirit of trading is still very much alive in the young Americans, for they proved just as shrewd as the Scotch, who are very keen when it comes to trading or swapping.

American Scouts returned to this country with all sorts of complete, and parts of foreign uniforms. Our own Newton Scouts have badges from nearly every Scouting country of the world and scores of other interesting souvenirs of the trip.

Scout Charles Frary, of Troop 7, West Newton, was the scribe for the Trip and he has heaps of notes, piles of pictures, so that there will be a complete story soon.

In addition, the Troop took over 3,000 feet of movie film, which is being developed now and will be cut and titled for public showing here at home as soon as possible.

Newton's Activities at the Jamboree

This very sketchy account would not be complete without a word about the activities of Newton's Troop at the Jamboree. Newton Troop acted as the Color Guard of the American Delegation, an honor conferred upon them because of the fact they were the first delegation from the United States to register completely for the Jamboree. In addition, individual members served as sign bearers and Color guards at various times during the parades of Nations.

They took part in the American Pageant as Indians and put on their Indian Dances before a tremendous audience at the last American Campfire. For their work in the Indian ceremonies and dances they were very highly complimented, many men versed in Indian dancing saying that Norumbega's Scouts did as well as any group they had ever seen!

Long House Given to Birkenhead

The next to the last day of the Jamboree, with Dr. James E. West, Messrs. G. Barrett Rich and Lorne Barclay, the American Camp Executive, participating, the Indian Long House was formally turned over to the Birkenhead Boy Scouts Association. It was received by Commissioner Jackson, of Birkenhead, and a group of his Scouts and officers. At the close of the ceremony, the entire Birkenhead delegation filed into the House, stooping as they entered the low door, followed by the Newton Troop. It was a most impressive ceremony and the Troop was highly complimented by Dr. West and the other American Staff members.

Continental Trip

On the last day of the Jamboree, "Skipper" Gandolfo appeared in his usual efficient manner, with all arrangements completed, and we went to Liverpool. There, with the delegations from Short Hills, New Jersey, and Philadelphia, Penn., who were our companions during the entire trip, we were entrained for Harwich. From Harwich, we took the Channel Boat to Antwerp. At Antwerp, the next morning after a very smooth crossing, we were entrained for Brussels.

At Brussels, we laid flowers on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and a most impressive and inspiring ceremony it was. We then toured the city and visited the place where Nurse Cavell was shot during the war.

Off to Cologne

That afternoon we were entrained for Cologne, Germany and saw the entire Belgian Countryside from train windows through them. We then toured the city and visited the place where Nurse Cavell was shot during the war.

From Cologne we took the famous Rhine sail, landing at Bingen, having seen the famous Lorelei and the Mouse Tower. We stayed at Heidelberg and there visited the University and world-known Schloss.

Then we went to Lucerne, Switzerland, stopping there two nights; going up Rigi Mountain and spending largely for wood-carvings of all sorts; seeing the Lion, the two lovely old wooden bridges with their paintings.

Then we were off to Paris, apparently the Mecca of all American Tourists abroad. We landed at the Gare de l'Est at midnight and went to the Hotel Franca. There we made home for three days.

The Paris Stop

In Paris, through the courtesy of the U. S. Embassy, we went to the Palace de l'Elysee of the President of France, where we presented our three-piece bow and some Indian arrows to Colonel Grandchard, the military representative of President Doumergue of France, who was away on a vacation. This was done with much ceremony; as the two companies of the Palace Guard, in full dress uniform, were lined up and presented arms to the Troop, who stopped and returned the salute.

From the Palace we went to Eiffel Tower and went to the top.

In the afternoon, we went to Le Bourget, the flying field where Lindbergh landed. After much "wangling" in French by Mr. Bruce, for none of the officers there could speak English, we received permission and a permit to go right on the field, where scores of planes were taking-off and landing, with the Second Officer in command of the field. He led us on and we stood right on the spot where Lindbergh's plane stopped after his trans-Atlantic flight. What a thrill that was!

There we also saw the Paris-London plane, a tremendous one, take aboard its passengers and take off for London. A little later in flew and landed the London-Paris plane and discharged its passengers and baggage. Another thrill was watching a French aviator do all sorts of stunts high in the sky.

Off For Home

On Wednesday morning, with our voluminous shopping completed, we took the train for Cherbourg, where we were to take the S. S. Republic for home. As we were lined up waiting to go aboard the lighter, we went through the ceremony of making "Skipper" Gandolfo an Honorary Tenderfoot and member of our Troop for the wonderful way he treated us.

On the lighter we met the troops from Montclair, New Jersey and Elizabeth, New Jersey, who also had been our companions on the Roosevelt, so we had a reunion then and there.

Of the trip home, it was an enjoyable nine days, for we were on our way HOME. The days flew, but none too fast for us! As we sailed up Boston Harbor from Quarantine, as we drew closer to the Pier there were our families and friends and how we cheered and shouted. Then, the boat drew slowly in, we lined up and marched off onto the dock—HOME!

This is a very sketchy story, but we hope all readers will come to the public appearance of the Troop, as announced elsewhere in this paper and see the "movies" and the Troop in action and hear the story.

Scout Charles Frary, Jamboree Scribe of Norumbega Council, spoke over the radio last week Thursday night over Station WEEL. The talk was combined in a Big Brother Club meeting in which Big Brother "Bob" Emery asked the scribe questions pertaining to the Jamboree which the latter answered in detail.

LODGES

The new officers of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons will be publicly installed in the Masonic Temple next Wednesday evening.

The valuation is about $13,500.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Norumbega District School of Religious Education will be conducted in four sections this Fall, instead of in one, as in previous years. By means of cooperation with local groups in Belmont, Watertown and Newton Centre, ten session schools for leadership training will be conducted in these three places as well as at Newtonville. Similar courses will be given at all four places; at Newton Centre and Newtonville on Monday evenings, beginning October 7th; at Belmont and Watertown on Tuesday evenings, beginning October 1st. At Newton Centre and Newtonville Methodist churches are the hosts for this school.

This new plan involves an exchange of leaders. First period instructors in Newton Centre will travel during the Assembly period to Newtonville, and those at Newtonville will travel to Newton Centre. In this way the courses will be duplicated, but the school brought within easy reach of all church school workers. Belmont and Watertown will also exchange instructors in a similar fashion.

The District Council, composed of ministers, superintendents, directors of religious education, and other church representatives, will meet for business and discussion of problems, on Monday evening, Sept. 23, at the Newtonville M. E. Church, at 7:45 P. M. Everett A. Greene, President, will preside.

Call

Telephone rates on out-of-town calls by number fall into three classes according to the time of day.

First are the normal rates which apply from 4:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. These rates are as low as is consistent with good day service.

Second are the evening rates which apply from 7 to 8:30 in the evening. For distances above 40 miles these rates are about one-quarter less than day rates.

Third are the night rates which apply from 8:30 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. They are about one-half the corresponding day rates, with a 25 cent minimum.

For social calls, experience proves that the evening period is best. People are more likely to be at home. Calls can be completed more promptly. The cost is substantially less than for day calls. Plan your social calls to take advantage of these low evening rates.

Think of these Cows As Individuals

Think of the cows that produce Hood's Grade A Milk as important individuals. They are never handled as herds of unidentified cattle. Each one is individually examined to insure her fitness for the position she must occupy in the Grade A service. Each one is housed in a clean barn, properly groomed, scientifically fed, and regularly exercised in succulent pastures. Fine animals these, that produce Hood's Grade A Milk. The kind you'd love to own and be proud of. And the wonderful milk they send to us is handled with a delicate care that preserves its goodness unimpaired until it reaches you. See that each of your children has a quart each day of Hood's Grade A Milk.

The opening service at the Lincoln Park Church was held last Sunday evening. The pastor, The Rev. John Shade Franklin, who is a recent graduate of the Newton Theological Institution and who was formerly pastor of the Fulton Heights Community Baptist Church in Medford, presided. He introduced the informal program with a friendly word of welcome to the congregation and a word of appreciation for the young people who are sponsoring the services.

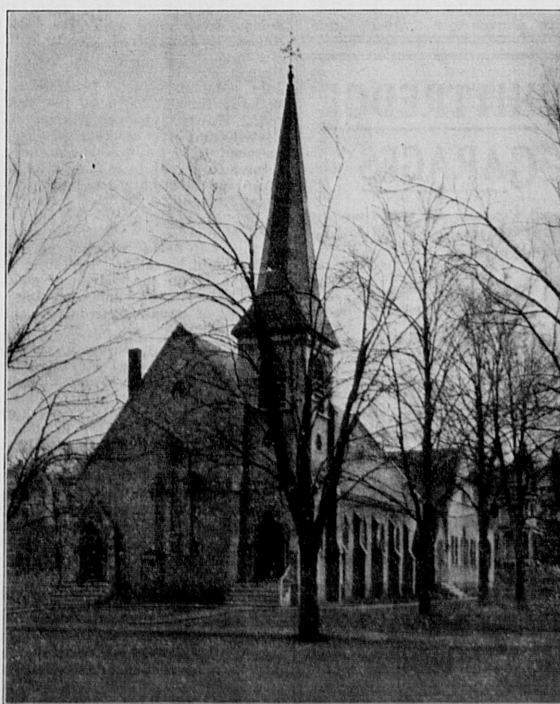

Mr. Ed Simpson, president of Norumbega Union of Christian Endeavor, offered the pastoral prayer and brought a brief message of greeting and good-wishes from the Union. Mr. Warren

Lane, an alumnus of the local C. E., and brother of the past president, Mr. Kenneth Lane, read the Scripture lesson. Miss Olive K. Burrison sang "O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go." The chorus choir, which made its appearance for the first time this season, was aided by several of the young people from the C. E. Society, by Miss Barbara Ziegler of the Second Church Choir, and by the Misses Lillian Phipps, Eleanor Howe, Helen Dufon, Ethel Griswold, Evelyn Pope, and Lucile Goodwin all of the Newton Hospital. The ushers were Messrs. William Brooks and William Richardson, Jr. Mr. Franklin preached on the topic, "Who's Who and Why."

This Sunday

This Sunday evening at 7:45 the sermon topic will be "Mistaken Magnitudes." The young people will meet for a social time at 7:30 sharp in the vestry of the church.

At the morning hour Mr. Franklin will preach on the subject, "Living Hope." The Church School, which held Rally Day last Sunday, will meet at 9:45 A. M., with full roster of classes for all ages in the Kindergarten, Primary, Junior, Intermediate, and Senior Departments. The adult department meets at 12 noon under the name of the Barbour Class.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Cookies and Crackers and How They're Made" is the subject of the motion picture talk for Saturday, September 21, at 3:00. Admission is free. Among new and interesting clubs being planned at the Museum for the new season is a "History of Boston" club, which will take the place of last season's "Travel Club," in which the children took imaginary journeys to many European countries and dressed a doll representing each place visited. The approaching Tercentenary makes the "History of Boston" club especially timely and appropriate, and boys and girls who join this club will be sure to know what the Tercentenary is all about when it comes along. Boston, however polite and proper it may seem at times, can look back on a dramatic and thrilling history, and through visits to historical points of interest hereabout, the club members will discover some of the highlights of this history. The work of the club will probably appeal most to boys and girls in the fifth and sixth grades, and of course it will be carefully planned to supplement, not duplicate, their school work. As the membership is limited, application should be made as soon as possible to Miss Madalene Sawyer, Curator of Education at the Museum.

The first meetings of the Stamp Club will be held on Saturday, September 21st, at four o'clock, and on Monday, September 23rd, at four. From the number of applications for membership that have been received to date, it looks as if the club this year would exceed in interest and popularity the record it made last year.

The Olmsted Naturalists, another club open to all interested boys and girls, and of long standing at the Museum, will this year study marine life. This fall and next spring visits will be made to nearby seashores, and during the winter, the Naturalists will see what they can find to study on the shores of nearby ponds. A marine aquarium is in preparation at the Museum.

Motion pictures will be made on Saturday, September 21st, of Museum activities going on during the afternoon. Casual visitors will be included. The "movies" will subsequently be shown on the new motion picture projector just purchased by the Museum, and possibly elsewhere in this vicinity. Outdoor pictures only will be taken on Saturday, and later a series of indoor pictures will be made.

ROTARY CLUB

Rev. Dr. William L. Stidger pastor of the Copley M. E. Church of Boston and a professor in the Boston University School of Theology was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club, held at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday.

Dr. Stidger began his address with several humorous incidents typical of the attitude of the younger generation illustrated by the story of the man who said he never struck his children except in self defense. Dr. Stidger paid a high compliment to Newton High School saying that his daughter had attended schools in Detroit, San Francisco and Kansas City and that the Newton High surpassed all of them.

Dr. Stidger took strong exceptions to the slogan "100% American" and favored "Henry Van Dyke's phrase 'America for Me.'" He said that one should leave the country to get a correct idea of the United States illustrating his thoughts by calling attention to an impressionistic painting where a close view only brought out what looked like daubs of color, and which showed more and more beauty and detail as you moved farther and farther away. Americans who had gone abroad appreciated more than the stay at home, the wonderful opportunity and freedom of their native land.

Dr. Stidger spoke of the proposed United States of Europe which he did not believe would become a reality on account of the jealousies and prejudices of the various nations. Incidentally Dr. Stidger believed that within ten years Germany would dominate the commercial world.

Miss M. C. O'Connell will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Frank McDonnell, Mrs. Christopher Ambrose, Mrs. P. N. Payne, Mrs. T. Gately, Mrs. M. Glade, Miss Mary Sands, Mrs. Henry Swartz, Miss Bessie Jordan and Miss Marie Cotter.

POLICE NEWS

Romeo Landry of 194 Charles street, Waltham was fined $100 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Saturday for larceny. Edwin Samet of 514 Lowell avenue, Newtonville had complained that he gave Landry $100 as an advance payment to do some painting on his house but the latter failed to do any work. Landry contended that Samet owed him money for work on another house. He appealed the fine.

In court Saturday Albert Noel, 35, and Margaret Rourke, 28, who have been living at 405 Cherry street, West Newton, were charged with a statutory offense. Noel was sentenced to one year in jail at East Cambridge; the woman was sentenced to Sherborn Reformatory.

The Newton courtroom contained a considerable quantity of clothing, bedding and similar articles last Friday when Nellie Moore of Cherry street, West Newton was on trial for stealing these things from homes where she was employed, and Michael Costello of Waltham street, West Newton, was charged with receiving the loot. The Moore woman, who had been employed as a domestic was accused of stealing thousands of dollars worth of clothing from persons who had employed her and Costello's room, according to Inspector King and Patrolmen Feeley and Gagnin, who arrested the pair, contained much of the stolen stuff. Among those in court to testify that some of the articles had been taken from their homes were—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noyes, 40 Homestead street, Waban; Mr. and Mrs. James Hewins, 1583 Beacon street, Waban; Mr. and Mrs. John McNair, 1518 Beacon street, Waban; Russell Burnett, 104 Crofton road, Waban. Judge Weston found Costello and Miss Moore guilty and announced that he would sentence the former to a year in jail and the latter to an indeterminate sentence at Sherborn Reformatory. He stated that he would not impose the sentences until Monday to afford the pair an opportunity to decide whether, or not appeals would be taken. He found them guilty only on the charge of stealing from the Noyes home, placing the charges of stealing from the other houses on file.

Last Friday morning a telephone message was received at Police Headquarters from the Ward School at Chestnut Hill asking that police aid be sent to that school as two horses, free from the restraining influence of any driver, and unencumbered by any harness, were cavorting about the school playground, thus preventing the children from the use of the play area. Motorcycle Officer Dowling speeded to the Ward School site and observed the horses quietly in the yard. Dowling dismounted from his cycle and crept quietly in the direction of the equines intending to grab one of them by the mane, or around the neck, or any place where a grip might be secured. The horse remained motionless until "Bill" was almost upon him and then he suddenly lashed out with his hoofs and missed Dowling's face by about two inches. To add insult to injury the horse and his mate gave Dowling the "rasberry" and galloped away over the links of the Commonwealth Country Club to disappear towards Brighton. Dowling returned to police headquarters. He had cleared the schoolyard of the invaders.

Less than an hour later another call for aid was received at Police Headquarters from the Ward School. The two horses had returned and were again making "whoopie." This time Motorcycle Officer Goddard was sent to pull the cowboy stuff. Half an hour later Goddard telephoned back to inquire if he had been "kidded" when told to hunt for horses. He could find no steeds in the school yard or any place else in the vicinity. The question remains unsolved as to who owns these horses, and where did they come from?

Just to make Friday the 13th, a horsey day, another one of these rare animals wandered down from Oak Hill to Newton Centre Square to be captured by Patrolman Lupien. The identity of this quadruped was established. It was a pony, the property of John Janse of Parker street.

Your new car will be worth more a year from now if it's an EIGHT!

Every month it becomes more obvious—motorists want the sweep of power, the smoothness, the thrilling acceleration—and the distinction of the Eight.

In eight key states new car registrations for the first six months of this year showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights above $1000—while Sixes above $1000 decreased 16 per cent.

Studebaker offers three great lines of Eights that hold more American stock car records for speed and stamina than all other makes combined. Eights of brilliant performance—economical as the thriftiest Sixes. So supremely ahead of the times that public response already has made Studebaker the largest maker of Eights in the world.

Why not get an Eight—a smart new Studebaker Eight? Enjoy it today and have a car that will be worth more a year from now—because Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with Sixes.

Superior Court Decides In Favor Of Gun Club In Nuisance Case

Auburndale Residents Had Protested "Skeet" Shoots On Pine Island During Summer

The trial of the Waltham Gun Club and its leading factor, Oliver J. Buntin, of Waltham, treasurer of the club on the charge of maintaining a common nuisance in Newton took place in the Superior Court at East Cambridge on Wednesday. Fines of $50 had been imposed on the club and Buntin in the Newton court some weeks ago and appeals had been taken. Chief of Police Burke suggested before the trial commenced that the jury be taken to Lexington and Staniford streets in Auburndale where the persons reside whose peace of mind has been disturbed by the shooting at the "skeet" held by the Gun Club, but Attorney Paul D. Howard of Newton Centre who defended the Gun Club and Asst. District Attorney Bishop who prosecuted the case did not think it necessary. Chief Burke felt convinced that if the jurors went to Auburndale and shot guns were fired off at Pine Island where the Gun Club conducts "skeet" tournaments it could be proved that those complaining were justified in doing so.

Pine Island is located on the Charles River at the Newton-Waltham line. Last Spring the Waltham Gun Club held several "skeet" tournaments there as part of "skeet" tournaments. Although there are herds of mosquitoes on and around Pine Island, it was not "skeeters" that were being shot at in the "skeet" tournaments. Clay Pigeons were the targets. These "skeet" shoots have become very popular in the United States the past year or two. Some persons think the ammunition manufacturers are responsible for the growth of this sport. It surely makes business better for them, especially since public opinion killed their efforts to start thousands of persons in this land engaging in a warfare of extermination against crows.

School Attendance Is Still On The Increase

Final Figures Not Obtainable for Several Weeks

A regular meeting of the Newton School Committee was held Monday night. The registration of the following teachers were received:—Mrs. Margaretta A. Holbrook, Burr School; John J. Norton, Mason School; Marion Maxim, Day Junior High. The following appointments of teachers made by the Superintendent of Schools were approved:—Mrs. Marjorie Jones and Mrs. Ruth Sherman, substitute teachers at Cabot School; Mrs. Clara Clement, substitute teacher, Williams School; Mrs. Blanche Stone, substitute teacher, Burr School; Edward P. Boulter, part time vocational and grades manual training; Marion Juthe, Day Junior High; Gordon Trim, Mason School; Lillian Ken-na, Bowen School; Helen Conroy, Davis School; Eileen Millard, temporary kindergarten assistant, Cabot School; Katherine Lawrence, temporary kindergarten assistant, Stearns School; Dorothea Rust, temporary kindergarten assistant, Angler School; Mrs. Lois Blue, temporary kindergarten assistant, Rice School; Virginia Cameron, building assistant, Hyde School; Marie Gallahue, assistant teacher, Warren Junior High; Elizabeth Hall, assistant kindergarten, Cabot School. The question of supplying a teacher for the children in the Peabody Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill was referred to the City Solicitor to ascertain if the city can legally do this. The Committee believes it ought to be done, if legal.

The transportation question for the Charlemont district was referred to the sub-committee on transportation. The report of Supt. Wheeler showed that the present enrollment in the public schools of Newton is 561 more than for the corresponding week last year. It will be a month or more before the net increase for this year can be definitely known. Many more pupils will enroll during the next few weeks but last year hundreds of pupils were not sent to school the first few weeks because of the infantile paralysis scare. It has been necessary to open three new classrooms because of the increased attendance. (Continued on Page 6)

LOYAL TEMPERANCE LEGION HOLD LAWN PARTY

On Tuesday, Sept. 17 the lawn of the parsonage of the First M. E. Church of Newton Upper Falls was the scene of a very delightful lawn party given by Ruth Batey and Millson Shedd who are earnest leaders of the Loyal Temperance Legion. The following children assisted them during the afternoon: Ruth Wildman, Lucy Batey, Edward Wildman, David Batey, Edward Batey, Helen Oldfield, Frances Tenant, Vaughn Shedd and Calvin Shedd.

A very pleasant feature was a tea room where they served hot waffles, sandwiches, tea and coffee. At the end of a very happy and profitable afternoon the children reported that the amount realized was nearly $20. This money was used as a gift from this society to the Loyal Temperance Legion.

AUTO BURNED

Box 241 at 1:50 Tuesday morning was for a fire which destroyed a touring car parked at the rear of 30 Middle street, Newton. The car was owned by Mary Shea. A short circuit caused by an overcharged battery is supposed to have been responsible for the blaze.

A truck driven by John H. Priest, 68, of 13 Henshaw street, West Newton, and a car driven by Edith Jones of 8 Park avenue, Newton, collided Wednesday at Otis street and Forest street, West Newton. Priest was hurled to the ground and knocked unconscious. He was removed to his home.

Aldermen Make Short Work Of One Of Longest Dockets In Several Months

Create One New Police Sergeantcy, Make New Traffic Regulations, Receive Petitions

The Board of Aldermen met Monday night and in a comparatively short time took action on one of the longest dockets which has been considered for many months. The Finance Committee met at 7 o'clock and was in consultation for a considerable time with Chief Burke on the matter of appropriating money to permit the appointment of two more sergeants in the Newton Police Department. This comparatively unimportant matter has consumed more of the time of members of the Finance Committee during the past couple of weeks than most of the other matters before the committee. Chief Burke, through the Mayor had sent in a communication to the Aldermen at the meeting held on September 9 asking that $1235.96 be appropriated to permit the appointment of two more sergeants. Several members of the police force who aspired to the positions got busy and much pressure was brought to bear on members of the Finance Committee by many citizens of this burg. Largely as a result of the deliberations on this problem it was 8:30 Monday night when the Board was called to order by President Weeks. The members absent included Aldermen Bowen, Gallagher, Harte and Worth.

The first matters on the docket were hearings announced on the petitions of the Edison Company for permits to construct underground conduits on Pearl street from Centre to Bacon, Bacon street near Washington and thence a short distance on the latter street. No opposition appeared against these petitions or against a petition of the Telephone Company for a permit to lay a conduit on Washington street at Newton Lower Falls from Concord street to the Wellesley line. No persons were present to oppose any of the following propositions: Petitions of Edison Company for pole locations on Irving street, Lewis street and Oakwood terrace; changing and altering the grade of Watertown street, Nonantum, south side from east of Chapel street, easterly; relocating and widening Watertown street on south side from west of Pearl street, westerly; taking certain parcels of real estate on Cedrie and Rowena roads, Newton Centre for school purposes; taking land for drain and sewer on Intervale road from Bishopgate road to Hobart road.

Alderman Grebenstein, reporting for the Claims and Rules Committee recommended that leave to withdraw be given to the petition of Frank A. Page for a permit to erect a combined dwelling and henry at 127 Charlemont street, Newton Highlands. Page proposed to keep 2000 hens in the building. Mr. Grebenstein stated that as this location is in a private residence zone the aldermen cannot grant any permit for the establishment of a business there. The report was accepted.

Reporting as Chairman of the Traffic Committee, Mr. Grebenstein recommended that the traffic regulations be amended to make Boylston street from the Wellesley line to the Brookline line a one-way street going westerly on the north side and one-way going easterly on the south side. This committee also recommended that the driveway at the B. & A. station in West Newton be made one-way from westward to Highland, going westerly; that parking on the entire south side of Elmwood street at Newton be prohibited; that parking be limited to 30 minutes on Washington street, West Newton from Elm street to the B. & A. bridge, and on Washington street, Newton between Bacon and Peabody streets. These recommendations were all accepted.

Many accidents have occurred on Margin street and the Boston & Albany railroad asked for the restriction. A number of automotive service establishments are located along Elmwood street which is narrow. So many cars have been parked along this street that the Chief of Police deemed the prohibition of parking on the south side of this street necessary. The restriction of parking to 30 minutes on Washington street between Elm street and the railroad bridge is in keeping with similar restrictions in effect in most business districts of the city. It was ordered in some de-

NEWTON VS. MALDEN OPENS 1929 SEASON

Newton High will open its 1929 football season with Malden High tomorrow afternoon on Clafin Field at three o'clock. Inasmuch as Malden is planning to send along a host of supporters for their veteran aggregation which already is being looked upon as a possible state champion the Newton fans should make every effort to reach their seats early or they will be forced to accept standing room. The Clafin Field stands will accommodate but three thousand and these are sure to be filled to capacity.

The orange and black eleven is an untried outfit while Malden has one victory chalked up on its records, that of last Saturday over the Lynn Gen. Elec. Apprentices by a 32 to 0 score. The local team had a practice scrimmage with Wellesley High on Tuesday of this week in preparation for the Malden encounter. The scrimmage ended without a score although Newton had possession of the ball the greater part of the time and several times were inside the Wellesley twenty yard line. Many faults were discovered by Coach Sullivan and his assistant Charles Considine and they have attempted to correct these the past few days. Newton's inability to score against Wellesley was due mainly to the improper timing of the plays. This of course will come by continued practice and experience. It is sufficient to say that Newton has the makings of a very fair team, one that should hold its own with its later season opponents, but it is almost too much to expect the orange and black to turn back the gold and blue of Malden this early in the season. Newton's hopes are not too dismal but that the team will battle for everything and Malden will have to display real power to penetrate the Newton forward line.

Coach Sullivan is still somewhat undecided upon two of the positions in his starting line-up. They are at right tackle and left end. Fred Schipper, letter man, will start at centre with Clement McCarthy and Bernard Litchfield in reserve. Schipper weighs but 150 pounds while his opponent, Raymond Perry is but three pounds heavier. Edgar Moore and Arthur Boughan are certain to be at right and left guards for Newton when the whistle blows. Moore is the heaviest man on the local squad, weighing 182 while Boughan is one of the two smallest. The scales show his weight at 130 pounds. Local fans will remember Boughan's playing in the early games of last season when he gave promise of developing into one of the outstanding linemen on the team despite his lack of weight. His strength and speed more than make up for this shortcoming. Moore is exceptionally fast for his weight and he and Boughan make a fine pair of running guards. Watch them tomorrow. Malden's guards are Robert Lapidus, 170 pounds, and Richard Hill, 155 pounds with the former opposite Moore and the latter facing Boughan. Lapidus will also do the punting for Malden as he has been kicking considerably further than John O'Brien, Malden halfback, in practice sessions this week.

Malden will have some advantage in weight at the tackle berths. Gordon Lindbergh, 170, will start at left tackle for Newton. He is a tall rangy lad that reminds one of Creighton Gatchell, former Newton centre. Lindbergh is a transfer from Evanston, Illinois, where he was a letter man and highly rated tackle. The battle for the right tackle berth is still being waged by James Colligan, 178, and Joe Frechette, 162, with the latter perhaps having a slight edge. Lindbergh will probably do the kicking off for the home team. Malden's tackles are George Fenton, 205 pounds, and Matthew Suvalsky, 170 pounds. Fenton is one of the outstanding linemen on the blue and gold outfit. He will kick off for the visitors.

Curiously both the Newton and Malden teams have a John McCarthy at right end although, naturally they will not oppose each other. McCarthy of Newton is basketball captain-elect and saw considerable experience at end last year although failing to receive his letter because of the wealth of other end material on the squad. His basketball experience has aided him materially in grabbing a good tackle and the Malden backs will find him breaking in on many of their plays. The Malden McCarthy weighs 180 pounds, about thirty more than the Newton end. Newton's left end will be either Robert Nickerson or Donald Bosworth with the chances of both being in the game sometime certain. Malden's left end is Max Winerman, 175 pounds.

The Newton starting backfield will probably be Strombom at quarterback, Elrod and Norton, left and right halfbacks and Henry Furdin, the second letterman on the squad, at fullback. Walter Blackler, one of the best looking backs on the field would be an almost certain starter at quarterback if he were eligible. He is just up from junior high school and is shy one credit which will keep him out of the line-up until November first when it is expected that he will have made up the condition. He is the best punter on the squad and in addition looks good as a ball-carrier. His biggest weakness is the inability to pass which should come with teaching. With two more years ahead of him he should develop into a great triple threat.

Of the starting backfield group Perry Elrod is the fastest—in fact the fastest man on the squad. With good interference to start him off he may break loose on a long run at any time. Furdin is the line plunger on the team and can be counted on for a gain of a few yards most anytime. His experience of last year when he made his letter and his 166 pounds serve him in good stead on hitting

League Game

NO MALDEN WIN FOR TEN YEARS

The game tomorrow between the Newton and Malden high school football teams marks the resumption of relations between the two schools on the gridiron for the first time since 1923. At the close of that school year the Malden school dropped out of the Suburban league circuit and since that date the football elevens have not met although the baseball teams are annual opponents. Not since 1919 has the Malden football team scored a victory over the orange and black of Newton.

In the last meeting between the two, that in 1923, the game ended in a 3 to 3 tie. Tommy Gilligan had kicked a field goal from his 15-yard line early in the first period to give Newton the lead. The score had come following the recovery of a punt fumbled by Jackson of Malden. In the third period Malden reached the Newton 25-yard line only to have the Newton line hold them. Charlie Holden, Malden back, booted a placement goal from his 35-yard line to tie the score. The game was at Malden.

The previous year on Clafin Field Coach Dickinson's team won by a 12 to 7 score. Malden had lead up to the last minute of play by a single point, 7-6, when one of Jackson's forward passes were intercepted by Hamilton Oaks, Newton centre, who ran 65-yards for the winning touchdown.

In 1921 Malden lead the Newton team 7 to 0 at the beginning of the fourth period when Newton loosened up with its series of lateral pass plays to score two touchdowns and win, 13 to 7. In 1920 with Malden leading 3 to 0 by a field goal in the first period Newton ran their opponents ragged in the latter part of the game to win by the comfortable margin of 20 to 3. Prior to that period Malden had enjoyed a series of victories which stretched over a period of several years.

the line. Warren Norton is a good interfering back.

Malden has a veteran back field of which Sam Fishman and John O'Brien are the outstanding players. Both are backfielders with Peter Prusak starting at quarter and George Beaman at fullback.

Some interesting figures are uncovered in comparing the weights of the players on both teams although it has been repeatedly proven that a fast light team can outplay a slower and heavier outfit. Malden's line from tackle to tackle averages 176 pounds per man with a great port edge. Lindbergh at left tackle where the 205-pound Fenton plays. Newton's line averages but 162 pounds per man with Moore's 182 pounds and Boughan's 130 pounds making considerable difference in the balance. The backfields are nearer an even basis with Malden averaging 156 and Newton 149. Here again the Newton weight is down because of the 130-pound Strombom. Not having witnessed the Malden team in action it cannot be said that either team is faster than its opponent. Time will answer that question.

Should Malden run up a score in the early part of the game the Newton coach will probably use nearly every man on the team but if the game should prove a close battle the first string outfit will stay in as long as advisable. Newton's second and third string centres have been mentioned. The reserve guards are William Gowell, John Hodgkins and William Giles. The tackles are William Kenslea, Ernest Hamilton and George Gullian. The reserve ends are Reggie Barker, Francis Barba, and Joe Pescosolido. In the backfield those that may see service in addition to the first string backs are Walter Bell and Harry Colony at quarterback, James Shorten and Leslie Doten, halfbacks and Lawrence Connolly and James Sutcliffe, fullbacks.

NEWTON COPS TRIM WORCESTER 14-8

The Newton police baseball team defeated the Worcester police nine last Saturday on the American Steel and Wire Co., North Works field, Worcester, 14 to 8. The game was for the benefit of the Worcester Police Thanksgiving Day fund for the aid of poor families. Sunday afternoon the Newton Police will entertain the Worcester nine in a return game to be played on the West Newton Common.

In last Saturday's game O'Connor was on the mound for Newton with Charlton behind the bat. Although touched for ten hits and with his mates making four errors in the field O'Connor was in trouble frequently but managed to pull through. Newton started off in the first frame by scoring two runs but Worcester soon took a 6 to 2 lead with two runs in each of the second, third and fourth frames. In the fifth the local team got to Kelley, Worcester pitcher and drove over five runs to assume a one-run margin for the time being as Worcester scored two more in the sixth to take the lead away again. In the lucky seventh Newton put over another two-run cluster and this time kept its lead, adding five more in the eighth to clinch the game. Kelley, meanwhile, had been relieved by Cournoyer. The Garden City outfit collected fourteen safeties off the two Worcester pitchers. Five Worcester errors also aided Newton in running up its total.

GILL OUT BY ONLY A FEW DAYS

John Gill, a substitute on the 1928 Newton High football team, is ineligible for this year's team by a matter of three days according to a ruling made to Coach Sullivan by the Newton school authorities this week. When the Mass. Headmasters' Association clarified the drastic so-called "three-year" ruling which they passed last spring at an executive committee meeting recently it was thought that the Newton player might be permitted to play this fall. The clarified rules state that a schoolboy athlete may compete for six or eight semesters in high school according to whether his entrance is from junior high or grammar school. The year is divided into two semesters, containing an equal number of days of school, and to be counted as a student for any particular semester an attendance of 45 days is the requirement. Early in his high school career Gill was ill with pneumonia for several weeks. Investigation of the school records show that he was in school during the semester in question on 48 days. The presence of Gill on the team this fall would have been a great aid to the Newton coaches. Gill stands nearly six feet and weighs around 180 pounds. He would have filled the right tackle berth, now the biggest line problem, in fine style.

SPORT NOTES

Richards Puts Out Volpe

Louis Volpe, Jr., of Newton Centre, the Weston Golf Club pro tennis teacher, was eliminated in the first round of the U. S. professional lawn tennis championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., on Monday. The local player had the misfortune to draw Vincent Richards, defending title holder as his first opponent. Richards won handily, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0.

Country Day Opens Today

The Country Day school football team opens its 1929 season this afternoon against the Wellesley High team on the latter's field. There are a number of veterans on this year's squad which should make the nucleus for a strong team at the local private school. Wellesley High opened its season last Saturday with a one-sided victory over Ashland High. Tuesday afternoon a scoreless scrimmage was held between the Wellesley High and Newton High teams at Newtonville. Coach H. R. Wiles of Country Day is assisted by Coach Clarke this season. George Bottomley, veteran quarterback, is captain of the local school team. Francis Gleason, start halfback on last year's outfit, is again available. Other promising players are Lyman, Greene, Angier, Madden, and Leatherbee, ends; Vose and T. Downes, tackles; Sid Gleason, K. Brown, Hutchinson, L. Young, Dana L. and J. McClellan, Nelson and Muther. The complete schedule is as follows: Sept. 27, at Wellesley; Oct. 4, at Belmont Hill; Oct. 11, Thayer Academy at Newton; Oct. 19, Dummer Academy at Newton; Oct. 26, at Milton Academy; Nov. 8, Roxbury Latin at Newton; Nov. 15, Browne & Nichols at Cambridge.

Gullian Not to Play Football

Mike Gullian, former Newton and Brown captain and All-America tackle, has forsaken the professional football game. Gullian played a game or two last year but found that it took too much time from business to practice. Although he has received offers to play for the Boston Pro outfit he has decided against accepting. He is a registered official and will probably be seen at several of the scholastic games this year. He is to work in the Waltham-Somerville game October 6th and in the Harvard freshman versus Dartmouth freshman contest in the stadium the Saturday the Crimson varsity is in Michigan.

Proctor Stars at Springfield

John Proctor, former three sport star athlete at Newton high, was the star of a recent practice game at Springfield Y. M. C. A. college where he is a member of the sophomore class. He registered the second score of the game this year. He is to work in the forward pass near the goal line. Proctor's score came when both teams were playing several substitutes and brought the "Red" team's score to 12 points.

The tax payers all over the city are again called upon to provide adequate drainage for the land owners in Cold Spring swamp. This project will cost well over $100,000 and will substantially increase land values in that favored part of the city.

Senator Walsh's scheme for flexible tariff requires the approval of Congress for any change in the rates. We fall to see the "flexibility" of such an arrangement.

GUN CLUB WINS IN SUPERIOR COURT

Anyway, when the Waltham Gun Club was organized and commenced to hold "sneak" shoots on Pine Island, protests began to pour in to police headquarters from disgruntled residents of nearby Abundant. Among these residents who testified against the club at Cambridge on Wednesday was William Cullen of 251 Lexington street. Mr. Cullen testified that on June 8 between 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. he counted 871 shots from the "sneak" shooters' guns on Pine Island. These shots sounded like backfiring from huge motor-trucks and so told on Cullen's nerves that he had to cease working in his garden. Attorney Howard asked Cullen if he had been in the late war and received an affirmative answer. Howard next inquired if the shooting in that way had disturbed the witness, and Mr. Cullen very naturally answered that it did.

Frank C. Robey of Lexington street, like Mr. Cullen also had to quit working in his garden when the racket from the guns of the Nimrodos became unendurable. John F. Connolly of 281 Lexington street, a letter carrier, testified that that day he had to cease working in his garden when the "sneak" marksmen were putting over their barrage. Connolly retired to his house and started the radio to get some relaxation after having been put to rout from his garden, but the radio could not be heard with the incessant banging of the "sneakers' guns. A number of women from the neighborhood testified they had to leave their homes when the shooting was in process at the Gun Club.

Attorney Howard presented as an expert witness William H. Foster, who knows all about "sneak" shooting. Foster testified that 6,250,000 persons in the United States possess licenses to allow them to "sneak" shoot, and that only 500 of these belong to the Waltham Gun Club. It would be interesting to know just where the other 6,249,500 "sneakers" do their stuff. Mrs. Elizabeth Buswell presented as a "gold star mother" testified that she owns a camp near the Gun Club "sneak" range and that on one of the days when a tournament was in progress there she had four shell shocked former service men as guests. Neither she nor her guests were disturbed by the shooting, which she stated resembled the popping of toy guns. Another guest at Mrs. Buswell's camp, Mrs. Mary Fisher, testified that her very nervous Pekinese dog slumbered serenely while the shooting was being done at the Gun Club. Mrs. Agnes Sanderson of Forest road, Waltham, 120 yards from the "sneak" range, testified that on April 19 when a shoot was on, neither she nor a six child in her home were bothered by the noise. The jury was out but about 10 minutes and brought in a verdict favoring the Gun Club.

THE NAMES OF CUNARD SHIPS

Where and how the great trans-oceanic Steamship Companies obtain names for the swift, luxurious liners that traverse the sea-lanes and the sturdy freighters that plow their courses across the heaving waters of the seven seas is somewhat a mystery to the average landsman.

Little do they realize that much thought and study is given to this big question. Little do they know of the great amount of study into ancient and modern history, biography and geography that officials of these ocean transport lines give to this subject.

But it is a fact that it has taken a deal of thought, a plethora of poring through musty editions to give names to the thousands of passenger and freight ships that bind the uttermost ports of the earth into close communication.

In order to distinguish their ships from those of any other trans-Atlantic Line, The Cunard Steam Ship Co., which has sailed passenger steamships from Great Britain to Boston and New York for close to ninety years, at the very beginning of their operation adopted the suffix "ia" to all names for their ships. Thus, Mauretania, which for many years has held the record for fastest crossing of the Atlantic, record for fastest days run and for actual hourly speed, is the ancient name given the northwest portion of Africa now Morocco and Western Algeria.

Berenaria was the English Queen, wife of Richard, the Lion Hearted.

Of the Anchor Line steamers the Caledonia bears the name of Ancient Scotland, the Cameronia was named after Cameron of Lochiel, head of Clan Cameron; the California was named after our own Golden State on the Pacific Coast.

Another Line of trans-Atlantic steamships uses the suffix "ie" on all its ships, still another always ends its name in "land." The best known of the trans-Pacific and around-the-world Steamship Lines adopted the word "President," thus the President Monroe, President Hayes and so on down through the list of American executives.

When the United States Shipping Board, during the World War and immediately following began its ship-building program and turned bottoms out by the score, the officials were hard hit as to names for this great armada of freight and combination passenger and freight ships. Then somebody hit on the idea of naming one type with the beginning "Lake" because they were built on the Great Lakes, another type was started with the word "West" since they were built on the Pacific Coast, and for years these ships plied between the principal ports of the world.

Recently the Cunard and Anchor Lines published a list of the names of the trans-Atlantic liners with the meaning of each name. Reaching down into ancient history and mythology these officials took names of places, goddesses and even persons from all over the world.

Thus, Alania, was a district in an ancient province of Austria; Anania, a town in ancient Greece; Antonia, a Roman town named for the Emperor, Mark Antony; Aquitania, the richest of the three divisions of ancient Gaul; Ascania, a German dynasty founded

BETTER BATTERY SERVICE

Grading and finishing right field on baseball field at Newton High athletic field, $2,000; concrete foundation for backstop at backstop on athletic field, $2,000; completing grading of diamond on high school field, $500; additional appropriation sewer in Montvale road, $1,195.12; sidewalks $2,000; additional rent Newtonville branch library, $300; automobile for Fire Department $525; fire alarm signal box new School $135; clerical assistance Buildings Department $267.85; additional for work on Cold Spring Brook drain $7,000.

Aldermen Temperley and Powers voted against this last appropriation. The former stated that having voted against the original appropriation of $156,000 for this work to be done at the expense of the taxpayers of Newton and against an additional appropriation of $35,000 when considerable rock strata was encountered, he would consistently vote against another additional appropriation of $7,000 to pay for the removal of more rock. This job to date has cost the City of Newton over $198,000 and the end is not in sight.

Alderman Collins had acted adversely on the request for an appropriation of $1,000 for furniture and equipment at the new fire alarm headquarters building at Newton Centre as no emergency requires such an appropriation and it can wait until next year's budget.

LIBERAL RELIGION DIFFERS FROM PROTESTANTISM

Maintaining that religion was a natural, unquenchable force surging in human life, Rev. M. A. Kapp of the Washington Park Universalist Church made forceful answer to the scepticism of the critics of modern religion in a sermon last Sunday, entitled "Are There Unshakable Foundations for Any Religion?" Mr. Kapp declared that church, Bible, miracles, divine personalities, rituals and codes of ethics were all unsafe depositories of religion. He declared that the foundation of religion is to be found in "experience"—in a personal consciousness of the mysterious feeling we describe as religious. And the supreme test of such a religious feeling is this: Does it enhance life by creating new power, vitality, new energy for progressive living?"

In the light of this conclusion, and freed from the hindrances that clutter both orthodoxy and Protestantism, what is the place of the Liberal Church today? Catholicism is entrenched in superstition. Protestantism is generally endeavoring to reconcile itself, with some degree of dignity to the new thought which has threatened its fundamental tenets. Liberalism, standing on the threshold of freedom in thought is today in a unique position to meet the religious life of the twentieth century with (1) a broad educational program; (2) a powerful spiritual outlook, and (3) a great co-operative plan of living.

Mr. Kapp will speak this Sunday on the subject: "The Task of the Liberal Church in the Twentieth Century."

—Mrs. Wallace E. Mann of Grove street recently returned from several weeks in Maine where she was the guest of her father, Judge Charles K. Miller of Camden, Maine.

—The first meeting of the season of the Ladies' Aid of the Perrin Memorial Church was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Williams of Riverside road.

—The Entre Nous Whist Club held its first meeting on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Horace Gleason of Concord street. The officers were elected, Mrs. Harold Trefry of Grove street, President; Mrs. Ernest Hanson of Grove street, Secretary; and Mrs. Joseph H. Seaver of Concord street, Treasurer. Following the election of officers whist was played, the first prize being won by Mrs. Arthur McDaniel of Grove street, second by Mrs. George Harrison, and the consolation by Mrs. Ernest Hanson. The meeting concluded with a buffet lunch which was served by the hostesses.

ALDERMEN MEET

gree by a number of criticisms which have resulted from the practice for the last year or more of two rival merchants in this area who covered their trucks with large signs advertising fruit and vegetables and parked the trucks thus covered most of the day in front of their business places.

Alderman Hawkins reporting for the Licenses Committee recommended that J. D. McMullin be allowed to continue to operate an automobile repair shop under a special permit on land near Crystal Lake which the city has seized for the bathing beach reservation. Other petitions reported favorably upon by the Licenses Committee and granted by the Board were—Mrs. Margaret Sutcliffe, employment office, 409 Centre street; Ellen J. Cunningham, employment office, 305a Washington street; F. Louise Calvert increased storage of gasoline to 1000 gallons and one extra pump at rear of Elmwood street; Bertha Carvell, lodging house at 14 Newtonville avenue; Heffron Motor Car Company two 1st class taxi licenses at 1239 Washington street. Leave to withdraw was given to the petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Orchard street and to Joseph H. Thomas for two taxi licenses.

An echo of the controversy between the Waltham Gun Club and residents of Abundant was heard when Chairman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee reported that the committee would make a favorable report to the Secretary of the Commonwealth on the petition of Albert Steffens of 34 Whittier road and Bert Burrell of Glenridge road for certificates of incorporation in this organization. Because the Waltham Gun Club was found guilty of creating a nuisance in the Newton court and fined $50 the Licenses Committee at a previous meeting had reported adversely on the petition of the two Newton men who are interested in the club. The Secretary of the Commonwealth wrote to the City Clerk giving the information that the city cannot refuse to act favorably on petitions for certificates of incorporation unless those applying have been convicted of violations of the liquor law, the gaming law or other criminal acts.

Alderman Gordon opposed the favorable report on this matter until he received the explanation of the communication from the Secretary of the Commonwealth. He suggested that the Secretary be informed of the verdict found against the Waltham Gun Club in the Newton court. An appeal was taken from this verdict and the case will be tried shortly in the Superior Court. Alderman Smith will be one of the witnesses against the Club.

Petitions received and referred to committees include the following—To Licenses Committee, Earle Johnson permit for garage and service station at 1149 Walnut street, Newton Highlands; John Elander, alteration to garage to make it 3 car at 30 Salisbury road; Donald Magaw, 500 gallon gasoline tank at 25 Bridges avenue; J. J. Copplinger, increased gasoline storage at 79 Needham street from 22,000 to 42,000 gallons; August Osterlund, 1st class taxi license at 724 Beacon street. To Claims and Rules Committee—claims from Alfred Hammill, police officer for reimbursement to pay doctor's bills amounting to $152. Hammill, a motorcycle officer, having been injured in collision with an automobile; H. H. Rowland, 82 Church street, for $80.14 damages resulting to his house when a tree fell on it; P. L. Newcomb, Wollaston, $30 damages to his car from rock hitting it after a blast. The New England Creamery Products Company petitions for another addition to the wagon shed at 1 Park street.

Mr. Miller protests against the lodging house at 23 Austin street.

Orders were passed authorizing the laying out and acceptance of Allerton, Rowena, Wauwinet, Cedric and Rotherwood roads under the General Law; altering and widening corners on Fairmont avenue and Withington road; widening Wesley street. The offer of a 2½ acres plot at Oak Hill Village from Arnold Hartmann for a public park was accepted.

Alderman Collins, chairman of the Finance Committee reported that the committee recommended the appropriation of $617.53 to permit the appointment of another sergeant in the police department. Mr. Collins told of the conference between the Finance Committee and the Chief of Police last year when the latter stated that by being allowed to appoint an additional sergeant he would have 8 in the department which is sufficient. His reason for asking for two more sergeants was to permit the promotion to this rank of two men, one who is doing inspector's work and the other who has done such meritorious work that promotion ought to be given him. The committee did not favor any appropriation at this time as there is no real need for more sergeants. But as Inspector King has acquired valuable experience in the inspectors' office and his rating as the leading man on the eligible list for appointment to sergeant will expire in December it is desirable that he obtain the promotion because it will place him in line for promotion to the rank of Lieutenant should either of the other inspectors be advanced when vacancies occur in the two highest ranks of the police department next year or the following year. The Finance Committee also thought that possibly an inspector with the rank of sergeant might obtain more assistance from other police departments than an inspector who has not this dignity.

Referring to the request of the Chief that a second additional sergeant be authorized to afford promotion for meritorious service, Alderman Collins stated it is not good policy to adopt such a practice and that the policeman in question can be promoted when a vacancy occurs.

POLICE NEWS

Emory Hachey of 81 Maple street,
 Waltham, made a costly error about 11 o'clock Wednesday night when he drove the wrong direction on a one way street. Hachey drove past the warning beacon at the corner of Washington street and Hall street and not only went in the forbidden direction on this restricted part of Washington street, but then started to drive south on Centre street towards the bridge, going the wrong direction on another one-way area. Unfortunately for him, Patrolman Mc-Donough was standing around the corner. Stopping Hachey, the policeman found that the Waltham youth was driving without a license. In the Newton court yesterday Hachey was fined $10 for disregarding the city ordinance regarding traffic; he was fined $25 for disregarding the State law which compels persons to obtain a license before operating motor cars.

 forgery. It was alleged that Cortell had raised a check given him by Paul Mazzuchelli of Roxbury from $9.65 to $179.65. Cortell claimed that Machuzelli owed him $68 and he took this means of collecting the alleged debt.
 Judge Bacon held Cortell for the Grand Jury in $2500 bail.

Leo Milero of Cottage place, West
 Newton, was sentenced to one month in jail by Judge Bacon on Wednesday on one charge of non-support and givhe failed to support his family as ordered.

 street, Boston, owner of a building at 3 Hawthorne street, Nonantum, reported to the police on Tuesday that this building had been entered and almost completely wrecked. All the windows had been broken, doors torn off, floors ripped up and walls broken down. The place was formerly used as a radio manufacturing shop. The damage done is estimated at $2000.

Four men were arrested Sunday by Sergeants Leehan and Cullen and Pa-troldman W. J. Kiley after the automobile in which they had been riding had been driven through several yards, lawns and driveways on Grove street, Auburndale. In court Monday the driver of the car, William Sweeney, 24, of 70 Austin street, Cambridge, was charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until September 30. Two of his companions, Andrew T. Green of 49 Carter street, Cambridge, and Robert

THE NEW ENGLAND NURSERIES

Concord Road Bedford, Mass.
(Where Your Father Purchased)

Of all the hours of the day, there is one time when we like best to have company. That is in the early evening hours—when neighbors drop in to spend a while with us.

The real "telephone hour" comes at the same time. A visit to a telephone neighbor a hundred miles away adds much to those pleasant evenings at home.

To allow more and more use of our out-of-town service to those who have to consider costs, we have provided a low evening rate on calls made by number between seven and eight-thirty o'clock. At distances above forty miles, the rates are about one quarter less than normal day rates. A call or two will convince you of the speed and low cost of this service.

Traffic records show that a greater percentage of calls can be completed promptly in the period from seven to eight-thirty than at any other time in the evening.

Plan your social calls during this period. We are sure you will be pleased with the speed and economy of this evening service.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

"MY, IT'S DELICIOUS"

If you'll walk into the kitchen And just take a little sniff, You will get the scent of spices, O, how glorious each whiff!

For it's now the pots are laden Both with pickles and preserves, When ungrateful man is favored With far more than he deserves.

For he knows someone's preparing Many things he likes to eat, And he hovers round to smell them Until ordered to retreat.

Be it chow-chow, piccalilli, Chili-sauce or what you will, Big and little stand there grinning, Knowing they will get their fill.

In the jars behold the peaches, Plums, crab-apples, berries, quince! Was there ever food more tasty Set before Queen, King or Prince?

Please don't think that I am hinting As I write of this sweet sight, For I hope I know my manners And that wouldn't be polite.

Still, I'd much enjoy a sample, Which, if anyone should send, I'd acknowledge, with this message, "Love and kisses from your friend."

After considerable maneuvering I was able to get a day off in the country. A friend of mine who owns a camp in the foothills of the White Mountains, and also a roadster, had been urging me since the Spring to join him for a visit. So many things happened to prevent that I was compelled to cancel and postpone all dates with him. Finally, in desperation, he said, "I guess the only thing I can do is to give you a New Year's party." But I did get there the other day and now I am bragging about the good time I had.

You see, when one is chained to the city he gets a great kick out of rural surroundings. I am not as bad as a man in New York of whom it is said, "When he puts a flower in his button-hole and takes a walk through Central Park he thinks he's been way back in the woods." But I'm pretty nearly as enthusiastic over rustic week-end even if it covers less than 48 hours.

My friend's camp nestles at the foot of a hill on the shores of the Pemigewasset river near Franklin, N. H. Approach to the camp is through a pasture and someone in the car must get out, let down the pasture bars and, after the car has passed through, replace the bars again. That was something I hadn't done since I was a boy but I displayed such agility that my friend said, "You seem to be quite at home letting-down the pasture bars. If it wasn't that you might resent it I would call you a good bar-tender." I let him get away with his little joke because he is my friend and also because he respects both the constitution of the United States and his own.

I shall not attempt to repeat an experience which all readers of this column have enjoyed. I merely wish to report that I was privileged that next afternoon to lie on the grass, with the music of tinkling cowbells to sound the requiem of the dying day, and watch the sunset. The great woodland that rises sheer from the river bank was beautifully green. Above, the sky was first blue and gold, then pink and finally a purple haze settled over the treetops and gradually came the deep shadows of early night-fall.

I think I fell asleep. At any rate I was transported—until my friend's voice broke the silence with, "Come on, wake up, you can't dream there any longer." Of course I obeyed. That's life.

Inasmuch as the people of Newton depend upon the playhouses of Boston for their theatrical fare as pertains to the professional legitimate stage it is of local interest to find that the Mayor of Boston has forbidden the production in his city of Eugene O'Neill's play "Strange Interlude." Defenders of the so-called "art in the theatre" have waxed indignant to think that the Mayor should have taken this action. They are critical of censorship and do not hesitate to condemn an official who exercises his authority. What they really resent is being told that they may not witness the production of a play of which they have heard a great deal.

I haven't any doubt but what there are Newton residents who will be disappointed because this play is not to be given in Boston. For all I know they may be among those who have bought their tickets in advance. Of course they will get their money back, but that will not satisfy all of them. "Strange Interlude" is one of those plays that has been talked of everywhere and naturally many are eager to see if the dialogue is as "terrible" as the stories they have heard about it.

Personally, I have no sympathy with theatrical performances that are not clean. I suppose I shall be put down as among the lowest of low-brows but whether the play is superbly acted and magnificently staged makes no difference to me if I am compelled to listen to speeches that under other circumstances would be declared to be obscene. Assuming the author of "Strange Interlude" is a master craftsman at dramatic construction and the players among the most skilled in the profession, what is there to be gained by attending such a performance? Certainly no mental improvement if as the Mayor of Boston says, it presents "a disgusting spectacle of immorality, and advocacy of atheism and of domestic infidelity."

I know that I am making statements that will be challenged by those who long for "things that are worth while" in the theatre. I still cling to my opinion that the stage is not the place to trot forth the filth that is at all other times properly condemned. If somebody should ask if I understand and appreciate this "wonderful" play I shall be forced to reply that it is merely my personal view based on a reading of it.

I have long entertained the notion that we have been too liberal with our stage. But, putting that aside, much of the reputed "high art" in the drama of which we hear is largely bunk. Along with the highly commendable effort to introduce a system of theatrical productions which would encourage interest in the drama there has been created an alleged appreciation of intellectual values. Somebody who is supposed to have a reputation as a high-brow is quoted as having said, "You ought to see the new play by O'Phudge. It's marvelous." That comment from "a notable authority" is repeated by Mrs. A to Mrs. B and so on. The husbands are also told of this great play and soon a lot of people are raving enthusiastically over a play they haven't seen or read. It has become the "thing to do" and is being done by the "smart" crowd and those who admire and try to follow them.

If one set of theatrical managers present a play it is said to be a commercial enterprise. If another group of producers offer a sensational novelty it is "art." So strong is the influence of the latter that should an actor in their company walk down to the footlights and stick his tongue out at the audience a lot of people would applaud vigorously and declare it "art."

Have you noticed that the investigation of the barber shops of Massachusetts by the State Department of Health has not revealed any considerable number of complaints against the existing sanitary conditions? The State health officials have announced that in response to their inquiry whether any persons had contracted communicable diseases in a barber shop the number of cases reported has been negligible.

It may interest you to know that this year's Legislature decided to get rid of meeting the question of whether a State Board for the examination and registration of barbers should be established by turning the matter over to the health board for an inquiry. The latter, however, is not seeking to ascertain if the State needs a commission on barbers, although such has been urged year after year since Hector was a pup and has always been turned down by the General Court. Instead the health authorities have been looking into the practices of barbers.

I feel reasonably certain that when the bill for a barbers' commission was introduced the petitioners had no idea that the whole business would be switched over into the present investigation. Not that the barbers have suffered. On the contrary I think, from what I am able to learn, that the barber shops of Massachusetts have met the test mightily well. As far as anything yet has developed it looks as if the inquiry was a good thing for everybody in that the barbers are shown to be for the most part conducting clean shops. Incidentally, the public is reassured that these places are clean and that communicable diseases are not prevalent. What more could be asked?

The unexpected twist is interesting and causes me to lift my hat in apology for having jawed about the great number of special commissions created by the 1929 Legislature. This one is doing an excellent job. I think we may thank Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Health Commissioner, for his thoroughness and his close attention to the duties of his office.

Unless the principle of compulsory automobile liability insurance should be abandoned altogether, which course is hardly desirable, the people of Massachusetts must be patient until the method of administration has been proved or at least made nearer perfect than at present. The system was es-

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Norumbega District Council met last Monday evening with a good attendance of representative and interested superintendents, ministers and directors from the Newtons, Belmont, Watertown and Waltham. Many details of training school programs were thrashed out, involving the co-operation of the four institutes or schools of religious education being held in Belmont and Watertown on Tuesday evenings beginning October 1 and in Newton Centre and Newtonville on Monday evenings beginning October 7. Members of this training school committee include representatives from all these locations, headed by Rev. Chas. L. Seasholes of Watertown.

The Young People's Committee of the District for the coming year was appointed: Frank H. Grebe, chairman; W. Robert Hill, Maurice Hodder, Miss Natalie Ham, Miss Mary Clark, Rev. M. A. Kapp, Mr. H. E. Stevenson, Miss Isabelle M. Chute, and Miss Lola White.

Reports were made on work of the past summer in the two Daily Vacation Church Schools of the district, namely at Newtonville and at Watertown. The total enrollment of these two places was 280 children between the ages of 6 and 14.

Various activities for the year were discussed and plans suggested, such as reading campaigns, lantern slide rental, Service committee, etc. More will be heard from the District along these lines later.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

This week the Children's Museum is swinging into its fall activities with a bang. First and foremost must be mentioned the Sunday afternoon (September 29th) illustrated lecture at 3:30 by Dr. Moses J. Eisenberg, of Roxbury, who early this summer toured the Yellowstone National Park and took motion pictures as he went. Now he will take his audience over his route, showing pictures of the Canyon and the Falls, the picturesque wild life of the region, the Hot Springs and Geysers, as well as some of the scenic wonders of North Dakota and Wyoming. He has long been interested in the Children's Museum, and gave the dinosaur footprint which is on display in the Pre-History case. Admission to his lecture is free.

Miss Madalene B. Sawyer, the new Curator of Education, will take her Saturday afternoon audience at 2:00 on a personally conducted tour with "coasters," "swimmers," and other famous travelers of the seed world. Everybody knows that seeds travel, but how! By swimming the ocean, by coasting over the snow. It is a fascinating story. Specimens of some of these much-travelled seeds will be shown. Admission is free.

The October schedule of lecture lessons for schools is out this week, as follows: Grades I to IV "Seed Travelers in Autumn," or "Ohlyesa and his Teachers." Ohlyesa is a little Indian boy, and his teachers are the wild animals of the great forest in which he lives, Chagoo, the bear, Wananah, the fox, and all the rest. Grades V to VIII, "Nature, 'Crickets and Grasshoppers.'" Resources of our Earth. "The Story of Sulphur." This is a motion picture showing how sulphur is melted 1000 feet underground and brought to the surface; the many uses of sulphur. Travel and History, "Early Beginnings: China, Mother of Civilization." These lecture lessons are fully illustrated with specimens, picture charts, lantern slides and motion pictures.

"Our Hobbies" meets next Saturday afternoon at four, in its own club room. Any boy and girl who comes regularly to the Museum and joins in its activities is cordially invited to join this magazine group. Anybody with a hobby (and what boy or girl hasn't one?) is especially welcome. Boys and girls who live too far away to come regularly to Our Hobbies, stories, editorials, articles, poetry, or what you will. The magazine goes to many parts of the United States and to a few foreign countries. It is edited, managed and paid for entirely by boys and girls who have been coming to the Museum for several years.

WEST NEWTON CHURCH DEVELOPING SUCCESSFUL EVENING SERVICE

Dr. Woodman Bradbury to Preach

Friendly cheer together with the simple Gospel of Jesus Christ in song and story is developing a successful evening service at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton.

A special effort is being made by the pastor, the Rev. John Shattuck Bradbury, to reach the folks who cannot attend a morning service of worship. Seats are free. The welcome of the church is as warm and cordial for the unknown stranger who just "happens in" as for the wealthy friend who comes to help more than to receive help.

Famous Chapel Talk

Dr. Woodman Bradbury is expected to preach this Sunday at 7:45 o'clock on the subject, "Running Past The Signals." This message was delivered as a chapel talk at the Newton Theological Institution some time ago and created a deep and lasting impression on the students.

Mr. Franklin will sing a favorite gospel song at this service. The responses will be sung by the chorus choir which will also lead in the congregational singing.

At the 10:45 service Mr. Franklin will preach on the topic, "Life's Foundation." The Junior Choir will assist in the worship program.

LATER SUNDAY TRAIN ON CIRCUIT

The Boston & Albany Railroad will have a new train when the winter schedule goes into effect, which will give an additional and later service on Sunday night out of Boston to stations on the Highland Branch. Heretofore the last Sunday night train on the Branch has left Boston at 10:10 p. m., and the new train, which will leave an hour and five minutes later, will accommodate persons wishing to remain later in Boston.

On week days the Boston & Albany Railroad will run its usual late theater train leaving Boston at 11:35 p. m., making all stops on the Highland Branch and arriving at Riverside at 12:12 midnight.

GIRL SCOUTS

Now that vacation is really over and summer has ended the Newton Girl Scouts are beginning their winter program with great interest and enthusiasm. Already a number of troops have started their regular meetings, and by October 1st all of them will be in full swing.

Newton Headquarters, 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, opened on September 16th; office hours are from 9-5, and 9-12 on Saturday. Miss Freeman will be glad to welcome and talk with Scouts and their friends. We regret very much that one Field Captain, Mrs. Warren, cannot be with us in that capacity this year, though Troop 14 girls are very glad to know she will still be their Captain. In her place we have been fortunate enough to secure Miss Mildred D. Moore, of Newton Highlands; Miss Moore assisted Miss Freeman at Camp Mury Day this summer, and last year was Captain of two Newton Highlands troops, the Senior Troop, 21, and the Junior Troop, 26. She has also taken not only Newton training courses, but the course given at Long Pond Camp Headquarters, and an advanced training course given in Boston this past winter by Miss Edith Conant, of National Headquarters.

One of the first activities to begin was a Staff Meeting of the "Treasure Hunt," the Newton Girl Scout magazine. The meeting was called by Louise Trowbridge, Troop 10, Editor-in-chief, and was very well attended. Plans were made for several improvements; advertisements will be introduced and the magazine will be delivered at troop meetings. Each issue is to be built around some special event in Scouting, and articles for both Junior and Senior Scouts will be in the paper. Anyone interested is cordially invited to subscribe—the price is 35c for the year, which includes 9 issues. The Staff is as follows: Louise Trowbridge, Troop 10, Editor-in-chief; Literary Editor, Ellen Jane Cooley, Troop 10; Editor, Martha Burnham, Troop 14; News Editor, Barbara Livermore, Troop 15; Jokes Editor, Frances Carney, Troop 10; Business Manager, Betty Cudworth, Troop 21; Circulation Manager, Mary Carriek; Advertising Manager, Carolyn Somers, Troop 10; Special Feature Department, Anne Kendall, Troop 10.

The first Captains' Meeting was held at Headquarters on Wednesday, December 25th, at 7:30 p. m. The Troop Committee Chairmen attended this meeting and a firm basis for mutual co-operation was established at once as a background for the many plans of the year. The Council is glad to welcome several new Captains. Mrs. H. H. Ballard of Newtonville will take Troop 10; Mrs. W. W. Bigelow of West Newton is to captain the Senior Troop there, and Troop 26 of Newton Highlands will have Miss Ruth Wilkie of Newton Centre as Captain. Miss Eleanor Hall of West Newton will take over Troop 22 of Newtonville.

Camp Mary Day

During the summer, Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout Camp so near to our city and yet seeming so remote, nestled in the cedars on the shore of Nonesuch Pond, gave 108 Newton Girl Scouts a vacation of from 1 to 5 weeks. Camp opened off on Bruce Burn Country Club. There were 15 girls, with a faculty of 30 girls, Miss Freeman, the Director, 7 counselors, a trained nurse, and 2 cooks. The regular camp closed on August 24th but a Training Course for Junior officers was held for 2 weeks more, closing September 7th, making the whole camp season extend over 10 weeks.

New equipment, which was installed before the camp opened, through the interest and hard work of Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Chairman of the Camp Committee, and made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Frank A. Day, added greatly to the comfort as well as to the welfare of the campers. A new cabin was built, new wash house with 12 showers added, and a pressure tank installed, which gave the whole camp plenty of water. Messrs. Walton Redfield, Earl Kettley, Arthur Colby, Trowbridge Mahoney and Lamphier spent many hours working at camp. Mr. Carl Somers, of Somerville, and Miss Somers, of West Newton, who were in the wash house, while Mr. Orr generously contributed much in the way of fittings.

Nature, woodcraft and swimming were the things stressed in this year's program. The girls all enjoyed the Nature Game which was given by Miss Colby and many passed their Flower Finder, Merit Badge, making some very lovely books, with pictures of the flowers drawn and colored. Out door fire building, pioneer work, laying trails, and map making proved most interesting and filled the days full.

The swimming hour was always the most popular of the day, 46 girls passed the Swimmers' Merit Badge, 12 the Red Cross Swimmers' Button, 10 the Red Cross Life Saving, one of these being Senior.

Miss Caroline Freeman, the Camp Director, had as her assistants, Miss Mildred Moore of Newton Highlands, Miss Dorothy Colby of Newton Upper Falls. The counselors who were at camp for all or part of the summer were Mary Stuart of Rochester, New York; Ruth Hassinger of Ann Arbor, Michigan; Ruth Wilkie of Newton Centre; Virginia Brown of Newton; Elsa Brandt of Waban; Mary Stephen of Waban; Elsie Partridge of Newton; Elizabeth Skelton of Newton Highlands; Barbara Andrews of West Newton; Carol Upham of Waban; Isabel Skipworth and Elizabeth Plimpton. The camp nurses were: for July, Miss Vera Slipp of August, Miss Gertrude Shibley of the Faulkner Hospital, and for August, Miss Viola Dilabough.

Spaulding and Miss Viola Dilabough had charge of the cooking, and judging by weight gained by the girls they did their part splendidly.

Camp letters were won by Jean Harvey, Marjorie Tylee, Barbara

FILM GANGSTERS TO INVADE LOCAL THEATRE

Gangland in all its glory will be re-created to filmgoers in First National's dramatic story of warehouse racketeers, "Dark Streets," which opens Sunday for 4 days at the Paramount Theatre.

Jack Mulhall plays the featured leading role, which calls for a dual characterization, that of a cop and a crook who are brothers. As the crook he is supported by many noted flicker gangsters, including Maurice Black, who played the Greek night club manager in the stage production of "Broadway." Al Hill, Mike Donlin, the former Giants' baseball star who has now turned film gangster, Pat Harmon and others.

The era in which "Only a Pansy Broken" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold" were popular song hits, is the era in which the action of "Show Boat," Universal's super-filmization of Edna Ferber's famous novel, begins. The picture will be shown at the Paramount Theatre next week Thurs., Fri., Sat., with Laura La Plante, Joseph Schildkraut and Otis Harlan in the leading roles.

To those familiar with this part of the Victorian era, the music of the time will refresh happy memories of gay parties where ladies wore bustles and tightly fitted basques; when gentlemen achieved fierce flowing cravats as soon as they reached their majority.

Each of these gymnasium classes will be followed by a twenty-minute supervised swim. The class for High School boys is scheduled for 3 p. m. on Monday and Wednesday with a swimming period from 3 to 4 p. m. on each of these days and also on Friday.

During the summer months new white tiled shower rooms have been installed with new shower heads and valves.

ROTARY CLUB

At the weekly luncheon on Monday of the Newton Rotary Club held as usual at the Woodland Golf Club the club secretary, Lyscom Bruce who is also Scoutmaster, Executive of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts, gave an interesting account of the high spots in the recent trip of sixteen Boy Scouts of Newton, to the jamboree of Boy Scouts of the world held last summer in England and Mr. Bruce said there were 58,000 Scouts from over 40 different countries all camped near Liverpool and that the Newton delegation was among the best trained, and best disciplined of them all. He gave many incidents which took place during the encampment with particular reference to the Indian reproduction by the Newton boys. The time allotted to Mr. Bruce was far too short for what he had to say.

A committee was appointed to arrange a fall outing and plans are under way for the Club golf tournament.

The club will be represented at the Fall Conclave beginning next week at Poland Spring by the following delegation:

Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Ansley, Dr. and Mrs. Carl V. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Clough, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Rae, Dr. Henry Watters.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

PUBLICITY. "It pays to advertise." How many times we read this and hear it! Yet this phrase is never truer than when applied to the publicity of Women's Clubs. Club presidents of the General Federation and of the State Federation, as well as many other prominent officials, have constantly paid tribute to the value of the press notices that make Club activities and Club personnel known to the Club members and to the general public. The many fine endeavors in work, the many splendid accomplishments, would lose much of their prestige, and their inspiration for greater progress, if they had no recognition from the news viewpoint. It is for this reason that Club officers of wisdom do all in their power to aid those whose profession it is to make public their plans and accomplishments. And it is for this reason that it is the duty of every Club Press chairman to herald the doings of her individual Club, and not, by indifference, lack of energy, or procrastination, rob her Club of its fair status in the Club world. It is for her to see that her Club is not left to "blush unseen" in its unfolding interests, and if she (or her fellow officer or chairman who can give to her many facts) fails to blazon in glory the Club's activities, she it is who should blush, and, verily, she should not do it UNSEEN! It is for this reason, too, that the State Federation chairman of publicity has always taken such pride in her announcement that there are approximately 65 newspapers in Massachusetts that give special space to Club News. Many of these papers are large city papers, and these notices must necessarily be brief and almost curt, in statement of bare facts, and rivalry amongst the myriad Clubs who seek their pages must, of necessity, too, cause some to be crowded out of the limelight. Since this is true, it is a source of satisfaction to Newton that its home paper recognizes the place of the Woman's Club in the affairs of the community to such an extent that it sets aside a given space—and it is most generous—each week for its news, and engages an editor to be responsible for its presentation. This courtesy should be greatly appreciated by all organized Clubwomen, and that it has been in the past, can be attested by the present editor of the Column, who is most grateful for the friendly co-operation of the many understanding officers and Press chairmen.

The editor makes this suggestion which should be of service. No Club officer or chairman should send in her own press notices. She should send them to the Club's press chairman who is officially responsible for Club news. And no items should be taken or sent direct to the Graphic office. They will not be accepted there, but must be sent to the editor at her home, 4 Pembroke street, Newton. If necessary, she may be reached by telephone at Newton North 1284.

No Club news will appear among "personals" or in special space. The Club Column has been provided for all such Club and personal items.

The Club editor would be glad to hear from Club presidents, or from the new press chairmen themselves, as to the identity of the new press chairmen who have been appointed this year, in order that she may explain to them the rules as to sending in items, rules which must be adhered to, in order to avoid confusion and waste of time. She would welcome, also the Year Books of each Club, which are a guide in following the various meetings and in knowing the personnel of the Executive Boards.

And now, the editor greets all Clubwomen for their new season, wishes them every success and pleasure in their meetings and accomplishments, and will enjoy renewing old friendships and in forming new ones among new Club officers.

COMING EVENTS

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club has the honor of starting off the new Club season for the Newton Federated Clubs, being the first to meet on Tuesday, October 1st, since its meeting is held at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Wycliffe Spaulding opens her home, 429 Wadcott street, for the program, after which members will adjourn to the home of their president, Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, at number 362, for her hospitality in a Luncheon. The first gathering of the year is always a most enjoyable one, in greetings after the holiday, and in renewal of old ties, but with a Luncheon part of the program the day becomes even more festive.

The general topic chosen for study for the year is on International Relations, with the title "Growth and Present Phases of our Foreign Policies". Taking as specific subject "The New Franklin Letters", Mrs. George E. Martin has the distinction of being the Club member to present the first paper, and Miss Elizabeth Rier ably shares honors in the opening meeting with a paper on "The Texan Question, 1821-1844".

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., one of the smaller Clubs of the Newtons, and one that studies some intensely interesting subjects, holds its first meeting on Monday, September 30th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Emory W. Clark, 38 Allerton road. The program is in charge of Miss Martha B. Morse and Miss Mahelle Murd, and the book they will discuss is "The Art of Thinking" by Ernest Dimmet. A quotation from Dimmet serves as introduction to this year's program: "Great Books, great men, great problems and great doctrines, great facts and their lessons cannot but result in high thought." With this aim the programs are sure to hold much of inspiration and information for the members.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Perusal of the new Year Book and Club Bulletin of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, says their Press chairman reminds one that considerable thought and work has been in progress, although to the Club member the Club has seemed to be dormant through the summer. She adds that after a period of pleasure and leisure, the Clubwoman's thought is turning to the many activities awaiting, with renewed energy and inspiration, to take up the threads and weave the new pattern of work.

On October 1st at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House, the season will open with a hearty welcome to the Club's old friend, Miss Eunice Avery, who will bring, in her entertaining manner, her own experiences, as well as the customs and ideas which she encountered, during her journey through India this summer. Following the meeting, there will be an opportunity for greeting old and new friends over the tea cup, which is always so especially enjoyed at a first meeting.

An interesting announcement is that the American Home committee will have on sale the Cook Book which they have been busy compiling, of material that was furnished by members of the Club.

Mrs. Malcolm Green has offered the use of her summer home at Sagamore Beach for an all day's outing on October 2nd. Members are warned to note the change in date from October 4th, as was given in the Club Bulletin. Each person is asked to bring her own luncheon. Coffee and ice cream will be served by the committee. Members wishing to partake of this all-day outing must make reservations by Tuesday evening, October 1st. Cars will leave the Bulletin Board promptly at 9 a. m. and return by 6 p. m.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

A most attractive series of Art lectures is offered by the Newton Centre Woman's Club, with the added distinction of being given by a talented Newton Centre woman.

Four lectures on Florentine Art, by Miss Frances Varney, will be given at The Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Wednesdays, beginning October 9th, at 3:00 p. m., under the following captions:

1. Giotto and the 14th Century; 2. Masaccio and the Realists; 3. The Dawn of the Golden Age; 4. Raphael and Michelangelo.

Miss Varney has only recently returned from a prolonged stay in Italy, where she has been studying the art of the country, and she has secured some beautiful reproductions of subjects to be used illustratively in this lecture course.

Mrs. W. C. Noetzel is chairman of the Club's Art committee sponsoring the series.

Tickets for single lectures or for the entire course can be secured through Mrs. Norman Pratt, Grant avenue, Newton Centre.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Leon E. White, Radio Director for the State Federation of Women's Clubs, has begun her big task of supplying weekly broadcasts of interesting and timely Club matters with a most attractive opening number. Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, General Federation Director, and popular, and much-beloved ex-president of the State Federation, will give a "Greeting" to Club members at WNAC on Wednesday morning, October 2nd, at 11:30 o'clock. WOMEN'S CLUBS the Club world, may be heard at 11.40. At 11.50 Miss Carolyn J. Peck, chairman of Press and Publicity, will speak on the 1929 Prize-Winning Story. With publicity for Club work and aims of so much value, and with the history of a prize-winning contribution to such publicity to be presented, this program is of special appeal, and most timely as the introduction to a year of activity that should be "broadcast" not only for that one day, but through many days for each and every Club event.

The program for the first Club Institute will be given at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, at 10 o'clock a. m. until noon, on Thursday, October 3rd, opening with a welcome, from Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, chairman of the Club Institutes. A talk on "The Spirit of the Federation" will be given by Mrs. A. A. Packard, president of Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Other topics and speakers include: "Obligations of Club Officers," by Mrs. Walter A. Hall, past director of Ninth District; "The Value of Publicity to the Club and the Community," by Mrs. Hastings Hawkes, former editor of Brookline Club News; "Summer Activities" (a) Western Massachusetts, by Mrs. P. M. Lynch, director of Fourteenth District; (b) The Cape, by Mrs. Ralph H. Snow, director of First District, and Discussion: "How much time at our regular meetings should we give to our State chairmen of Departments?" by Mrs. Robert Parmenter of Arlington.

Club Institutes will be held on the first Thursday of the month for the remainder of the year, at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. The meetings are open to all interested Clubwomen.

OFFICERS' MEETING. The Club year for the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs formally opens with the first monthly meeting of the officers and Departments, which is to be held at The Vendome, Thursday, October 3rd, at 10 o'clock. Chairmen of Departments who will take up their work for the month are: Mrs. Phoebe Lee Hosmer, of Orange, chairman of Literature, who succeeds Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson; Mrs. Lauren L. McMaster, of Wakefield, chairman of the American Home, succeeding Mrs. Ralph H. Reed; and Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge, of Maynard, who succeeds Mrs. David D. Nickerson as chairman of Education. New chairmen of special committees include: Mrs. Homer P. Ingell, of Swampscott, chairman of Meetings, succeeding Mrs. Frederick M. Prescott; Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, of Somerville, trustee and treasurer of the Endowment Fund, succeeding Mrs. Joseph C. Otis; and Mrs. Herbert E. Child, of Newton Upper Falls, chairman of Credential Ushers, succeeding Mrs. Ernest L. Brown. Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith of Somerville heads the new committee on Federation History, the other two members being Mrs. Walter A. Hall of Swampscott and Mrs. Joseph S. Leach of Walpole.

Other changes in the Departments include the enlargement of the Department of Legislation to 30 members under Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman; the placing of Civil Service, Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman; Law Observance, Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, chairman; Citizenship Training, Mrs. Arthur G. Webster, of Southboro, chairman and Interracial Unity in America, Mrs. C. H. Danforth, chairman—all under the Department of American Citizenship. The Department of Public Welfare now includes five subdivisions as follows:—Community Service, Mrs. Fred L. Cross, chairman; Cooperation with War Veterans, Mrs. Paul A. Peters, chairman; Mothercraft and Child Welfare, Mrs. May Bliss Dickinson Kimball, chairman; Public Health, Dr. Anna C. Palmer, chairman; and Social Welfare, including Mental Hygiene, Correction, Philanthropy, Wage Earners, and Protective Measures, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter.

General Federation

ENDOWMENT FUND. Varied and interesting as are the avenues of work and investigation of the General Federation, the one that possibly holds most vital interest for the coming year is the raising of the $2,000,000 Fund for its endowment of aims in the future. The date by which this sum is to be raised is the Biennial of 1932, and even with three years in which to subscribe this sum, the warning and advice of the chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, to Clubwomen the country over is "to do it now." This, of course, means the raising of the individual Club quota. The methods to be used in securing each State quota are not dictated by the General Federation, but are left to the devices and discretion of each State group of Clubwomen.

At the Biennial Convention at Atlantic City in 1926, a Board of Trustees was created for the purpose of raising a General Federation Fund. The method of raising the Fund was approved at the Swampscott Council meeting, June 1929, there having been meanwhile much discussion and propaganda on various methods.

The plan adopted is a quota plan, based on the actual Club membership of each State calling for a per capita of $2.50. Of the sum total of $2,000,000, one-half to go to the General Federation, and one-half to such States as participate in the campaign proportioned to the amount raised in each State.

A letter has been sent to each State president containing at length the details for a campaign suggesting that if it is to be carried on as a campaign:

1. A General State Plan, enthusiasm could be generated by several schemes; if by
2. The Individual Club Unit, a list of activities that might be employed. The Trustees will be glad to furnish such data as they have, and the General Federation Headquarters will give all assistance possible.

The necessity for a Foundation Fund for the General Federation has been set forth under nine headings, amplified to extend the work of the Departments and render more help to the States, to undertake important outstanding occasional activities, and to furnish a sound financial basis for the organization.

The necessities of the States for their fifty per cent. of the moneys raised are as varied as the differing conditions in each State. So far as the General Federation is concerned, the fund when raised is to be invested and only the interest used for such purposes as has been indicated.

So far as the State is concerned, it is increasingly desirable that it shall have a Foundation Fund, which may be used for other expenses than those the Endowment Funds usually made restrictive.

The plan has been approved for the General Federation treasurer to receive from a State Foundation Funds in units of $500.00, so that the money may be put to work at once. When a State has $1,000.00 or multiple of the same, it sends the General Federation fifty per cent. and retains its fifty per cent.

The earlier the Fund is obtained, the sooner the State reaps its own benefit.

This will be the incentive and the reward for labors and efforts of busy Clubwomen who have one more piece of work given to them for fulfillment.

The States have been divided into six regional groups, Massachusetts being in the first, which is represented by Mrs. Walter S. Comly, of Comly avenue, Port Chester, N. Y., and it consists of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware.

CONSERVATION. In the field of Conservation, and an idea that may be of value to some Club chairman who has a program on this subject to provide during the coming year, is the announcement from the General Federation Department that the "Program on Beautiful Roadside" is now ready. The Lecture and the Essay on Legislation are both rewritten. The same Monologue and Humorous Poem are still included, and there has been added an original Skit, entitled "The Big Sign." The Skit is written by Mrs. Charles Smallwood, formerly Bill-board Chairman in New York State. It is said to be very clever and easily staged.

The set of slides to illustrate the program is also ready, with many new slides added. The entire program may be obtained for $1.00 and postage both ways. If the slides are not desired, the price, including Skit, is 75 cents.

Clubwomen desiring this program must specify the exact dates well in advance for the slides as there is only one set which has to be routed carefully. The Committee has 50 sets of the typed material and can therefore supply a hurry call at almost any time. Chairmen should apply to Mrs. W. L. Lawton, 5 Chester street, Glens Falls, N. Y.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Although the Club year does not open officially for members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club till the reception at the home of the president, Miss Ethel W. Sabin, on October 7th, the first event of the year, a food sale, was held on the lawn of Mrs. Warren H. Hoye's home, 65 Oak street, on Saturday afternoon, September 21st. The committee, with Mrs. Albert Proctor as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Hoye, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, Mrs. Walter Billings, Mrs. William H. Warren, and Miss Florence Osborne, were kept busy selling their wares to Club members and friends, while Masters Hoye and Billings sold the punch. About $50.00 was realized from this sale, surely a good beginning for the year's work and very gratifying to the committee.

TERCENTENARY NEWS

Governor Allen, Honorary Chairman of the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary Conference, says, "I commend a state-wide and inclusive Tercentenary commemoration in which all people, and the children, may actually participate."

1930 is near at hand and it behooves us all to become interested in our own Celebration. Newton should surely have a prominent part in this state-wide observance, and she can surely furnish a fine program. What are Newton's attractions? Can you name twenty points of interest in our City, places of historical interest, natural attractions, scenic allurements, burying grounds or anything else that may be worthy to be listed and given publicity? Let us know our own community better.

Industrial displays, educational exhibits, musical events, historical displays, dramatic productions, motion pictures of the history and activities of the City, marking of sites and buildings, pageants and public meetings indoors and out to be so scheduled that some such meeting shall be taking place at least weekly through the special season of 1930 somewhere in the state are suggested. Special dates recommended are Tuesday March 4, 1930, the anniversary of the granting of the Charter, Saturday April 19, 1930, Sunday, June 1, 1930, and Friday, July 4, 1930.

Mr. Hermann, the Supervisor of Newton's playgrounds has these interesting suggestions for Newton:

A Library in every village.
A Playground (at least a sufficient area) in every district.
All school grounds properly surfaced and fenced.

All playgrounds properly fenced and beautified.

For the High School Alumni Association:

A High School Athletic field properly and finally developed, fenced and beautified.

Special celebrations under the auspices of Women's Clubs, Schools, Improvement Societies, Playgrounds.

General outline:

A city wide Historical Pageant depicting the settling of Newton 300 years ago, showing the gradual development of the villages and their final combination into the city.

A Plan for four main traffic arteries with beacons or signs or gates at all entrances.

A plan for the Charles River improvements.

An historical Loan Exhibition combining with Child Welfare Exhibit lasting over a period of weeks or months.

Some or all of these suggestions can certainly be carried out by Newton as her contribution to the state-wide celebration.

It is believed that many visitors will come to Massachusetts next year and that many who formerly lived here will come "back home". Let us hope there will be many such for Newton and let us keep the latch key out for all who come.

For those who may wish to review their history, timely talks will be given on the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary during October, November and December at the Boston Public Library. Among the speakers will be Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, Herbert Parker, John J. Walsh and Michael J. Musty.

A complete program of all the lectures can be obtained at any Branch of the Newton Public Library.

The Division of University Extension of the Department of Education will arrange a series of courses in Historical and Literary Background of the Tercentenary. The main course will be conducted in the form of evening classes in the Gardner Auditorium of the State House with an evening Class starting October 2 at 7:30 P. M., and a morning class starting Friday, October 4 at 9:30 A. M. The instructor will be Professor Robert E. Rogers of the English Department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. A fee of $3.00 is charged for auditors, and $4.00 for credit students.

Still another opportunity for people to be informed of the background of the Tercentenary next year will be given by a series of eight lectures illustrated by motion pictures, to be delivered at the Gardner Auditorium beginning Monday evening, November 18 at 6 P. M., by Wilfred F. Kelley, head of the history department in the Boston schools.

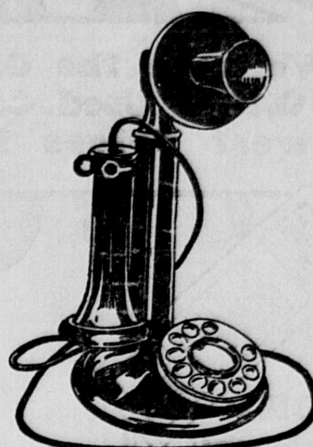

BOSTON MONDAY CLUB

The Boston Monday Club held a very successful social day and sale at the home of its treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Jerauld, 30 Cloella Terrace, Newton, on Sunday, September 23rd. The day was all that could be desired, warm and sunny and brought out friends, not only from Newtonville and vicinity, but from Brookline, Brighton, Allston, Somerville, Weston and other places. A splendid luncheon was served and together with proceeds from this table and from the food and fancy work table a substantial amount was added to the treasury. Among the guests present were members of the Charity Club, The Fathers and Mothers Club, The Weston Woman's Club and the Brightelmstone Club. Two of our members met trolleys at Newton and Lake street. President Mrs. Percival Waters congratulated the members for their excellent work in supplying and arranging the tables. All the food was home made and those in charge disposed of it easily. The members and friends had generously donated to the fancy work table and much of the success at this table was due to the splendid salesmanship of Mrs. Frank Barron, of Weston, who took entire charge of it.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary Newton Post 248 will hold a Bridge and Whist Party at the West Newton Armory on Tuesday October 15th, at 2:30 o'clock. The tickets are fifty cents and the proceeds of this party will be used for the Service Man, the official organ of Newton Post No. 48. Mrs. Leo Nolan will serve as chairman, and will be assisted by the following: Mrs. Francis Cook, Mrs. George Hennrichs, Mrs. Irving Ireland, Mrs. Mary Paterson, and Mrs. Helen Crowley.

"Moving Day Is Judgment Day"

Most of the moving vans that you see in the streets are going to certain kinds of houses.

If you will follow them you will find they are houses which have radiator heat and modern plumbing facilities.

And if you will go back to the houses from which these vans are coming, you will find they were houses with old-style plumbing fixtures, single bathrooms, and out-of-date heating systems.

Modernized plumbing and heating facilities are the best insurance you can buy. They insure more rental or sale revenue from your property—or more contented, comfortable living conditions for your own family, if your home is not for rent or for sale.

Let us make a free inspection of your property today, and show you just how you can have the kind of plumbing and heating equipment that makes a home liveable—or more rentable or saleable.

America wants to stay in high gear! The public knows that no extra gear shifting can give a six-cylinder motor the smoothness and flexibility of an eight.

The fine cars started it. Today every fine American motor car is an Eight. Now we find the same sweeping trend among cars of more moderate cost.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined.

Drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Compare it point for point. Then remember—your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!—for Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with sixes.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The Press Wireless Company, being organized by a group of American publishers, is planning to construct 26 radio stations throughout the country. It is proposed to have two of these stations at Newton Upper Falls.

Possibly some of those persons who defend "dramatic art" which features degeneracy and salacity would be quite willing to take a hike through a trunk line sewer to better understand modern sanitation.

Mechanic Bert Stuart of the Street Department has installed "GO SLOW" and "CAUTION" panels in a number of the Columbia Traffic Signals from which the "STOP" and "GO SLOW" instructions were removed a few months ago by order of the State Department of Public Works. The removal of the glass panels bearing these instructions rendered useless the traffic signals which had prevented many accidents at dangerous intersections. The replacement of warning instructions on the glass sides of these signals will be of material assistance in restoring the efficiency of the Columbia and other types of signals for which the city had expended a considerable amount of money.

POLICE NEWS

Joseph A. Farrell of California street, Newtonville was sentenced to serve from 30 to 40 years in State Prison by Judge Posdick in the Superior Court at East Cambridge on last Friday. Farrell was convicted of having made brutal assaults on two young women on a lonely road in Lincoln on two different nights last June and July. One of his victims had recently undergone an operation and was using crutches when she accompanied Farrell on the night he attacked her after driving his automobile to Lincoln. When the Boston papers revealed that the assailant of the two young women was being sought by the police Farrell shipped on a boat going to Porto Rico. He was arrested when this boat touched at Newport News.

Farrell was the first defendant in Massachusetts to waive the privilege of trial by jury; a new law having been passed which accords this choice to any defendant who prefers to be tried by the presiding judge rather than by a jury. His attorney was Hugh Boyd of Newton.

In the Newton court on Friday, Spencer Earnshaw of 216 Highland street, West Newton, was fined $10 for speeding; Leo Perkins of 188 Woodward street, Newton Highlands was fined $25; George Hokanson of 276 Church street, Newton, $10; Fred McLaughlin of Framingham, $10; John Labo of Cambridge, $10; Joseph Schaller, Jr. of Wellesley, $10; Harriet Van Deusen of 908 Beacon street, also charged with speeding had her case placed on file.

Jack Quinn, the famous Philadelphia Athletics' veteran pitcher has nothing on Patrolman "Mike" Connolly the star twirler of the Newton police nine. Connolly, like Quinn, has seen 43 summers come and go but still can fool opposing batters with his pitching skill. "Mike" in his younger days played with the New York State and Canadian leagues.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Hunnewell Club will open its season next Tuesday evening with a smoker, at which the chief attraction will be a bowling match between Paul Poehler and Archie Walsh, champion bowlers of New England. Entries for the men's and mixed Boston pin tournament will close October 5th.

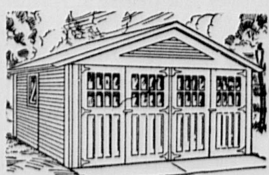

Plans are also being made for a club dinner to take place October 29th.

FOUR HURT IN CRASH

Cars driven by Thomas Carter of 467 California street, Newtonville and Ralph Ambrose of 65½ Hunnewell street, Oak Square, collided at North Beacon and Parsons streets, Brighton on Sunday night. Carter received an injury to a knee and was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Ambrose and two passengers in his car also received slight injuries.
